Speen was also SC's top player, Which is why he was named to the all-Region 12 team and nominated for All-American honors, even though he missed much of the season.

Atso named to the all-region team were mid-richer Rick Menary, defender Jeff Saylor and keeper Jeff Shuk. Sweeper Dave Dingile and striker Khaled Zeldan were second-team selections.

Saylor may prove to be the key player this season for SC. He was a substitute until Speen was injured; now that Speen is "90 to 95 percent healthy," according to Dimitriou, the Occloss will be much improved.
How much Saylor's development has Dimitriou thinking about moving Speen to midfield or even forward, positions where his size could prove beneficial — particularly at forward.

beneficial — particularly at forward.

"THAT'S WHERE our weakness Is, up front," said Dimitriou. "So far, Khaled (Zeldan, SC's leading scorer with 15 goals) has been a marked man, if we can draw some attention away from him, it's got to help."

Speen will also play some sweeper, with Dinglie moving up to middfield for short stretches. All things considered, Speen's return allows Dimitriou far more leverage in juggling his lineup. "With your top player counting back, it's got to be a bonus," said Dimitriou on so many former SC players know, having the talent and reaching the Inter-regional tournament is one thing, winning it — which SC has managed to do just once before is another. In the win over Cuyahoga, the Ceelots scored the game's only goal off a first-half corner kick taken by Brian Thomas.

Pioneers plan for tourney trip

By C.J. Risak staff writer

After three straight non-winning efforts, last week's matches with Siena Heights College and Lewis University were a welcome relief for Oakland University, which is sunsed to going so long between soccer victories.

The Pioneers 4-2 loss at Gannon (Pa.) University Oct. 21 cast doubt that OU would even qualify for the NCAA Division II tournament. Last height eas nerves somewhat, but the Pioneers aren't in the clear yet. They must win their final two games to ensure a playoff berth in the Central Region. OU hosted Central Michigan yesterday and will octoo out its regular season Saturday at Eastern Michigan. Tournament lids will be issued Sunday evening, three teams, perhaps four, will qualify.
