Rescue a man who has fallen through the ice. Make a fire with flint and steel. Get an exact compass reading on a post. Judge the height of a tree. Survive and stay comfortable. Those are the challenges put before local boy scouts in day-long winter outings. The Sunset District (Livonia, Plymouth, Garden City and Westland included) held its "Freeze Out '71" last Saturday at Lower Huron Metro Park; the Redford District was at "Sno-Shoo Schuffle" on Sunday, and Farmington and Southfield scouts in the Clinton Valley Council will hold theirs next weekend.
