

Sculpture to be featured

The Meadow Brook Art Gallery presents a show by former Michigan sculptor Michele Oka Doner from April 1 to May 20.

"Michele Oka Doner at Mid Career" focuses on the works from the early mysterious "Doll," "Bones," and "Seeds and Pods." It moves on to models and drawings of her most recent public art commissions such as, "Celestial Path" at the Theatre trip

Art Venture, an art appreciation group sponsored by the Paint Creek Center for the Arts plans to attend a production of "Walk Until Dark" on Wednesday, April 4, at the Birmingham Theatre.

Before the matinee, there will be lunch at the Townsend Hotel. Reservation deadline is Saturday, March 31. For details, call the PCCA at 651-4110.

Doner has lived and worked in New York City since 1981. She graduated from the University of Michigan and lived in the state for 18 years. In the late '70s she exhibited "Works in Progress" and "Image and Object in Contemporary Sculpture" at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Meadow Brook Art Gallery is located on the campus of Oakland University across the hall from the Meadow Brook Theatre, Rochester.
