still a year away from being created, movies were far and away the most popular entertainment for Americans. One of the interesting screen images was the elegant "French" cradle phone, usually on the table in Milady's boudoir. That "French" phone is still in use today all over Europe. Something else is still in use today, in Europe and America...in Observerland its name is the Observer Want Ad and it's working harder than ever to help people than ever to help people communicate their needs with one another. Remember the number... GA 2-0900 . . . dial them to place your Observer Classified Want Ad.
