Bike parade lures more than bikers

More than 60 kids and their families joined in the Farmington Square subdivision's third annual Bike Parade and Balloon Launch. Bikes, roller skates, wagons, strollers and scooters were all part of the recent event.

Neighbor Kirk Luckaschewer graciously volunteered his red jeep and became the honorary Grand Marshal of the parade, after Farmington Hills firefighters had to make an emergency run and missed the parade start.

For four blocks the parade moved to the sounds of marching music and ended in the subdivisions commons area where cookies and juice were waiting. A balloon launch followed the festivities, with each child attaching a note to his or her balloon asking whoever found it to mail the card back.

Hills firefighters came to the scene with Sparky the fire dog and did a water demonstration with the help of all the children. The subdivision thanked the department with a donation to the Smoke Detector Fund.
