Glamorama

Furs by Maltier in West Bloomfield (above) and wedding gowns by Pollack Bridal in Farmington Hills are two of the reasons that this year's Glamorama was an smashing success. The array of boutiques, luncheon and fashion show is an annual event staged in Adat Shalom Synagogue by the Helen Rosenberg Cancer Fighters who raise funds for the City of Hope National Medical Center and Beckman Research. The fashion show was a Leah Marks extravaganza. Hair styles were done by Bellissima Too stylists, in West Bloomfield. Makeup by Malibu Salon in Farmington Hills.

Community Center plans raffle, ball

The Farmington-Farmington Hills Community Center is hosting its first annual cash raffle and ball beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, in the Novi Hilton.

evening of prizes, cocktails, dinner, music and dancing until 12:30 a.m.," said Dorothy Pfaff, the center's executive director.

The evening's highlight will be a raffle at 9 p.m. with a grand prize of $5,000 and other prizes including a color television, a weekend getaway at the Novi Hilton and 19 $50 winners.

In order to increase odds of winning for guests, only 200 tickets will be sold.

Tickets are $150 per couple and include dinner for two and one raffle ticket. Proceeds from the event will benefit the center.

For tickets, contact the center at 477-8403.

Law Day contest gets under way

The State Bar of Michigan and the Michigan Lawyers Auxiliary announce the 1991 Law Day Essay Competition open to all 7-9th grade students in Michigan schools. Students are invited to submit original essays of not more than 400 words on this year's Law Day theme, "Freedom Has a Name: The Bill of Rights." The Law Day Essay Competition is sponsored annually to encourage young people to increase their knowledge and understanding of the law.

Awards for the top 1991 Law Day essays include U.S. Savings Bonds of $200, $150, $100 and $50, engraved plaques and dictionaries. Winners, parents and teachers will be guests at the statewide Law Day Luncheon.

Entries must be postmarked no later than March 1, 1991. More detailed information may be obtained by writing: Ruth Marcus, MLA Law Day Chairperson, State Bar of Michigan, 306 Townsend Street, Lansing 48933.

Law Day observed each May 1 to celebrate American liberties and to provide an occasion for rededication to the ideals of equality and justice under the law.

Brownies need help with service project

Larkshire Elementary School 2nd grade Brownie Troop 3303 is sponsoring a used book and magazine drive for the armed service men and women in the Persian Gulf.

The project began as a result of a "Right To Read" patch the Brownies are attempting to earn. The requirement suggested that the girls bring used reading material and swap it with each other. In discussing world affairs and in attempting to teach the girls a greater awareness of the needs of others, it was decided the troop would promote a school wide book drive and send the books to the Persian Gulf. Members anticipate as much as 500 pounds of books.

Based on research, depending on the number of books and/or magazines collected, the cost to ship these items could exceed $200. "As Brownie Troop only has 11 2nd graders, there is no way that we have the amount of money required to ship these books to our service people," said Brownie Leader Michele Oras.

"We would appreciate any type of contribution to help defray the cost of this project. You would be teaching our Brownies a valuable lesson and more importantly providing a much needed service to our men and women in the Persian Gulf," Oras said.

Those willing to help with a contribution are asked to send a check made payable to MMGS Troop 3303 to 23533 Newell Circle West, Farmington Hills 48336.

For more information call, 353-9290 during the day or, 474-1244 in the evening," she said.
