Helping hand

Thanks to the Farmington Public Schools bus drivers' annual car wash, the three local high school's SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk) chapters are each $100 wealthier. Bus driver Deb Watson (center) presented the donations to (left to right) Greg Grodzicki, North Farmington; Marc Koss and Lynda Loren, Farmington; Becky Karbowski and Cindy Korby, Harrison.

Home lauded for landscaping

Farmington Nursing Home has received a 1990 beautification award from the Beautification Commission of Farmington Hills.

The award is given annually to area businesses in recognition of dedicated efforts and outstanding achievement in supporting the objectives and purposes of the commission.

"This award really goes to our department heads, patients and their families who helped with our beautification efforts," said Linda Mynarek, administrator of the nursing home. "They donated the flowers and their time to help plant and maintain them. They've made this place beautiful."

Farmington Nursing Home is a 179-bed nursing facility at 30405 Folsom Road, Farmington Hills. In addition to providing extended care, the nursing home also offers short-term respite care for families who need short relief from caregiving responsibilities.
