

MRS. DAVID VIRDIN KATES
(Carol Frances Vanata)

Couple Creates Own Rings

Bonnie Jean Herman and Verne Edwin Ticknor exchanged rings they had designed and made when they spoke their nuptial vows recently in Toledo.

The ceremony took place in St. Clement Catholic Church, with the bride's uncle, the Rev. William Hankard, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Herman of Lambertville, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ticknor of 13 Mile Road, Farmington, are parents of the bridegroom.

(Bonnie Herman)

WINTER WHITE crepe fashioned the bridal gown and matching hat-like headpiece. A chapel train and a gold and white belt, hand-beaded by the bride, accented the gown. The bride carried two dozen white roses.

Five attendants wore floor-length white crepe gowns with gold-trimmed detachable hoods.

Patricia Herman, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Sandra Herman, Camilla Ticknor, Ann Marie Pakemba and Joanne Kennedy.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S brother, David Ticknor, was best man, and guests were seated by Thomas Neuman, Terrance Brown, Al Racette, Thomas Charon, Edward Linsell and Timothy Pickins. Mrs. Herman wore a royal blue dress and Mrs. Ticknor, a tuxedo print.

The couple greeted 200 guests in the Knights of Columbus Hall reception before leaving for a San Francisco honeymoon.

They will live in Ann Arbor while the bride, a senior at Eastern Michigan University, completes work on a fine arts degree and the bridegroom finishes his senior year in the University of Michigan school of dentistry. The new Mrs. Ticknor graduated from Notre Dame Academy in Toledo and her husband is a graduate of Alpena Community College and U-M.

Plymouth Church Setting For Rites

The First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth was scene of the candlelight wedding of Carol Frances Vanata and David Virdin Kates Jan. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alfred Vanata of Pacific Street, Plymouth, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. B.B. Kates of Detroit and the late John R. Kates.

Dr. Henry J. Walsh officiated, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

THE BRIDE'S empire gown was fashioned of white satin faille with hishop sleeves of peau d'ange lace and lace accenting the high neckline and forming a panel to the hemline.

Matching lace edged her chapel-length veil of silk illusion, and her bouquet was a cascade of white sweetheart roses, white miniature carnations, baby's breath and ivy. Mrs. H. Edward Nichols, as matron of honor, wore a Victorian gown of forest green velvet with white satin trim and green velvet ribbons in her hair. She carried white mums, yellow roses and baby's breath.

Dressed like her were the bridesmaids, Cynthia Tate, Sally Kates, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Richard Kossack.

TAMMY KELLER and Michael Sheets, small cousins of the bride, were flower girls and ring bearers. Attending the bridegroom were Robert Lukes as best man, and James King, Jerry Scout and Joseph Kates as ushers.

Mrs. Vanata chose a cream colored chiffon dress with silver bead trim and Mrs. Kates dress was white and gold.

A RECEPTION for 200 guests in Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor, followed the ceremony.

The couple went to Niagara Falls for their honeymoon and will live in Plymouth. The new Mrs. Kates is a graduate of Plymouth High School and employed as a secretary by the Ford Motor Co. in Livonia. Her husband served seven years in the U.S. Air Force and is a supervisor for the Detroit Diesel Allison Division of General Motors Corp.

A promise for peace

Christ Jesus taught his followers: "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you" (Matt. 5:44).

If everyone would fulfill the promise of his teaching, and express the love and intelligence that Jesus did, we would have peace on earth.

If this sounds meaningful to you, visit our public testimony meeting this week. It could help you find your own peace.
