

Reflective lenses

The Halsted Gallery exhibits photographs by Michael Kenna through Jan. 12. His landscape photographs are quiet yet intense, such as in the dreamlike "Reflection, Vaux-Le-Vicomte, France, 1988," which is included in the show. Although Kenna's works are narrative in nature, he doesn't include people in his landscapes. Halsted Gallery is at 560 N. Woodward, Birmingham. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday.

Grants session posted

The Oakland County Cultural Council in conjunction with the Michigan Council for the Arts again offers two grant workshops to assist non-profit Oakland County organizations in applying for a mini-grant.

Organizations may request up to $2,000 on a matching basis for their arts projects. The next deadline for applications is Feb. 15.

The first workshop begins at 7 p.m. Jan. 7 at the Executive Office Building, County Service Center, 1200 Telegraph, Pontiac. The second is set for 7 p.m. Jan. 8 at the Novi Public Library, 45245 West 10 Mile Road, Novi.

For details on the workshops or to obtain an application, organizations should call the Oakland County Cultural Affairs Office, 858-0415.

Christ Church readies carillon concert

Christ Church Cranbrook's 17th annual Christmas carillon concert is slated for 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 23. The public is invited, free of charge to enjoy the concert from the warmth of the church through an audio monitor system.

The yuletide concert will be performed by Don Cook, Christ Church Cranbrook carillonneur and associate organist since 1988. His program will feature Christmas favorites for young and old, both sacred and secular. Expect to hear everything from "Silent Night" to "Santa Claus is Coming to Town."

The carillon is performed from a special keyboard located in the tower directly underneath the bells, leaving the performer normally invisible to the audience. But for the first time during the traditional Christmas event the performance may be viewed through a large video monitor. Tours of the tower and belfry will be offered to a limited number of patrons following the concert. Tour reservations will be taken by phone, or if space permits at the door.

Christ Church Cranbrook is located at Lone Pine and Cranbrook Roads one mile west of Woodward, Bloomfield Hills. The Christmas carillon concert and the tower tour are offered by the church as gifts to the community. For tower tour reservations or more information call 644-5210.
