County Prepares For Redistricting

THE CARS IN THIS PARKING lot at Farmington High School represent a typical American phenomenon - they belong to students who drive to school. No place else in the world is a large parking lot planned as a necessary facility for a new high school being built. Farmington High's parking lot will be increased in size this spring.

Students Fill Parking Lots

The lot was filled with cars when the school opened. People driving past the parking lot at Farmington High and North Farmington High were told they were not to enter the lot. An American who was talking to the school officials said that one of the major problems in American education is the need for student parking lots.

Company Safe Is Job's Loot

Township police report that West Point Motor Supply, 27000 Eight Mile Rd., was broken into and robbed May 1. The burglar or burglars, as yet not apprehended, made off with a 1974 1/2-ton van, carrying a total through the front window of the store.

N.E. Area Faces 6 Government Options

West Creek Farms, the old village of Farmington, Mich., is in the southeast corner of the township. It is the only village in the township that has not been incorporated into the township. The township officials are considering six options for the future of the village.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY BODIES (AACUBA) has announced that it will be holding its annual meeting in Farmington, Mich., on November 27-28.

The township officials are considering six options for the future of the village.

James Cooper, principal at Farmington High, says he has more than 1,000 cars parked in the lot. The lot will be added to the school this spring.

Petition Deadline Saturday

The township officials are considering six options for the future of the village.

Local Angle: Proposal Will Split Township

The township officials are considering six options for the future of the village.
