

Rochester Symphony schedules world premiere

The Rochester Symphony Orchestra presents a doubleheader concert 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 22 at Oakland University's Varner Recital Hall. This will mark the debut of the Rochester Symphony Chamber Orchestra as well as a world premiere performance of Clark Eastham's Cello Op. 60 with Eric Edberg, cellist under the direction of music director James Hohmeyer. Eastham, known as the dean of Michigan composers, has been composing major works since 1935. His compositions have been played by major orchestras in the United States such as the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and in Europe. He has been on the music faculties of U-M Dearborn and Wayne State University. He is still active and continues to compose and teach in his Royal Oak studio. Edberg is a member of the music faculty at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind. He is a former student of Eastham.

EDBERG WON the concerto competition and the Fraternities Memorial Award and receives an honorary scholarship to study with Leonard

Rode and Channing Robbins at Uillard.

He continued his cello studies at the Peabody Conservatory and from there has received a master's of music from the State University of New York at Stony Brook where he was a teaching assistant of Bernard Greenhouse and a winner of a Tanglewood Fellowship.

He has been a member of the Contemporary Music Forum of Washington, D.C., the Chesapeake Chamber Players and the Franklin Quartet.

For tickets call 651-4181 or go to Janet Varner's, Main St., Hiller's Mens Store, North Hill Shopping Plaza and at the door. Tickets are $10.
