

Photo contest winners capture joy of reading

SMILE AND say Read!

That's what many amateur photographers said as they captured the joy and importance of reading in their winning photographs.

First, second, and third-place winners, as well as honorable mentions, have been announced in a contest sponsored by the Farmington Community Library and Friends of the Library.

The contest was designed to remind people of the joy and impor-importance of reading as a lifelong activity during 1991, "the Year of the Lifetime Reader."

The contest was open to all amateur photographers in two divisions, youth and adult, for color and black-and-white prints.

Judges were Randy Borst, graphics editor at the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers; Jerry Jakacki, owner of Focal Point, a Farmington photo studio; and photographer Jay Asquini.

FIRST-PLACE photographs are on their way to Chicago to be judged in the national contest. Winners will be announced during National Library Week, April 14-20. The national contest is sponsored by the American Library Association, Center for the Book and Library of Congress and World Book Inc.

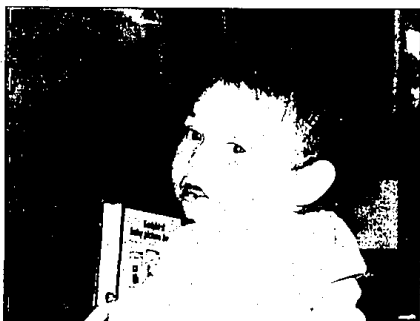

The local contest was coordinated by Maureen Baugh and Cheryl Sowles of the Farmington Community Library.

The local winners are:

- First place: Adult color: A tie between Gail Newth of Farmington Hills and James K. Huggins of Livonia. Youth color: Marc Gliner of Farmington Hills. Adult black-and-white: Bron Saunders of Farmington. Second place: Adult color: Gail Newth of Farmington Hills. Adult black-and-white: Rachel Elman of Huntington Woods.

- Third place: Adult color: Marsha Weigand of Northville. Adult black-and-white: Gail Newth of Farmington Hills.

Honorable mentions: Patricia Dawson of Farmington Hills, Linda Halstead of Livonia, Margaret Hans of Farmington, Cindy Crocker Rogowski of Farmington Hills, Victoria Lobstein of Fraser, Katherine Mark of Farmington Hills, Christopher A. Pierce of Farmington Hills and Lauri K. Rozek of Livonia.

Marc Gliner, Farmington Hills, first place, youth color.

Gail Newth, Farmington Hills, first place, adult color.

James K. Huggins, Livonia, first place, adult color.

Bron Saunders, Farmington, first place, adult black and white.

Rachel Elman, Huntington Woods, second place, adult black and white.

Gail Newth, Farmington Hills, second place, adult color.

Gail Newth, Farmington Hills, third place, adult black and white.

Marsha Weigand, Northville, third place, adult color.