

"White lace and promises . . ." is a phrase from a popular song and evokes the feeling of everything wonderful and exciting about a wedding.

Throughout the year your Observer Newspaper publishes many engagement announcements and serves area newlyweds as a showcase for their weddings.

"SPRING BRIDE" is an effort to offer expert advice to Observer area brides. We have interviewed a group of young women from this area, learned the questions they have and sought answers from local bridal consultants and business people.

The results are on the following pages along with attractive advertisements designed to enlighten those who are planning one of the most important steps in their lives . . .
