The Salvation Army will have room for 88 pre-school children in its child day care center which begins operation June 17 in the army's Kresge Center on Northland Drive in Southfield.

The day care program serving the general public will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays except holidays. The program for children from 6 weeks to 6 years of age will be educationally based, said Lt. Col. Clarence Harvey, eastern Michigan divisional commander. "Our research shows that people want quality child care. Parents want role models and teachers taking care of their children while they are at work, so that is what we are offering."

Charges will be based on a sliding scale depending upon ability to pay. The public is invited to tour the facility, at 16150 Northland Drive, and meet the staff at open houses between 11 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. on Friday and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

THE PROGRAM is licensed by the state and staffed by certified pre-school teachers and experienced child care professionals, according to director Paul Michalsen. The child care center has five classrooms, a 10,000-square-foot outdoor play area and a 2,000-square-foot supplementary play room. It is located in the recently dedicated Kresge Center, which also houses the Salvation Army's Eastern Michigan Divisional Headquarters and a vocational food services training program.

The children will eat in the Kresge dining room where lunches and snacks will be prepared by a food services staff.

Only a few children have been registered for the day care at the present time. People interested in more information about the program are invited to attend the open house or call 443-5500.

"Breakthroughs" do not occur in arthritis therapy. Researchers need years and hundreds of patients to assess the efficacy and safety of a new treatment.
During the period that therapeutic trials are underway, physicians obtain preliminary information at meetings or from their journals on the use of the drug. By the time the therapy passes the evaluations necessary to permit its general distribution, doctors know its place in treatment, the possible toxicities, and the optimal dose.
Also be aware that: "the voice may be the voice of science, but the hand may be the hand of Madison Avenue." The announcement of a "breakthrough" could represent advance publicity for a pharmaceutical firm that has packaged the "innovation." Or, a Wall Street brokerage house may engage an ad agency before offering the public shares in a company that has synthesized the "breakthrough" in quantities sufficient for the country's need.
Too often you are exposed to a dramatic news item such as the recent one of Boston doctors discovering that interleukin is a cure for arthritis; that report is a distortion of the medication's true worth. In contrast, the medical community has sufficient familiarity to shed the drug of its magic and marvel.
