

Heir to throne?

Stevenson's Johnson leads new team

By Brad Emora
staff writer

WATCH OUT Meg Mallon, because here comes the first-ever 1991 All-Area girls golf team.

Mallon, if you haven't forgotten, is having a successful season on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association Tour. The Farmington Hills Mercy grad is one of the season's leading money winners and was victorious earlier this year on one of the LPGA's tour stops.

Who will follow in Mallon's footsteps?

Coaches gathered recently to select the area's best.

Introducing the first-ever All-Area girls golf squad:

HONORABLE MENTION

Livonia Ladywood: Katie Pikelman; Livonia Stevenson: Wendy Ayers, Kala Carlsen; Plymouth Carls: Audrey Meissner, Katie Konovalov; Plymouth Salem: Elizabeth Koeb; Farmington Hills Mercy: Jamie Kirk; Livonia Franklin: Colleen Hansen.

Megan Johnson, Liv. Stevenson: The junior was the area's top golfer, averaging 43 strokes per nine.

Johnson earned all-state accolades after finishing fifth overall in the Class A championships. She was also medalist in every dual meet, and captured the Western Lakes Activities Association and Class A regional trophies. She also finished in the Ann Arbor Invitational.

"Megan works harder on her game than any girl I've coached," Stevenson coach Les Preiskrong said. "She comes from a golfing family. Her brother Todd (a U.S. Amateur qualifier) and her dad are fine, supportive players."

Michelle Gosselt, Liv. Ladywood: The senior averaged 47 strokes per nine and won medalist eight times during league competition.

She fired an 83 at the state finals after shooting an 87 at the regional (which placed her third). Gosselt carded a 90 to finish in the top ten at the Brighton Invitational.

She has committed to Michigan State.

"A sheer delight," Ladywood coach Sharon Laskowski said of the all-stater. "Michelle was very dedicated to practicing. Girls like Michelle don't come around once every 10 years."

Meghan Blake, Liv. Ladywood: Another state qualifier, Blake capped a fine senior season by shooting a 91 at the state meet held at Forest Acres in East Lansing.

Bound for Notre Dame, Blake averaged 49 strokes per nine and was medalist five times. At the Brighton Invitational, Blake shot an 89 to land a spot in the top 10. The senior came back to shoot a 90 (fifth place) at the regional.

"Meghan has been with me for four years," Laskowski said. "She has improved steadily through the years and has been a great person to have around. She will be missed."

Kristyn Schulkins, Farm. Hills Mercy: Only a junior, Schulkins averaged 46.8 strokes per nine holes and was match medalist 10 times.

The team captain recorded her best score of the season (40) in a match against Ladywood at Tanglewood.

The manager was Ray DeCorvo and the coaches Larry Hopler, Jerry Yatomas and Pat Sznerckl.

Schulkins finished second with a 93 (out of 80 competitors) at the Monroe Invitational and finished 14th (out of 108 players) in the Oakland County Meet.

"Kristyn is easy to work with," Mercy coach Vicky Kowalski said. "She's a good leader and encourages others on the team. She's dedicated, even hitting more balls after practice or a match."

Sarah Beckman, Ply. Canton: The senior averaged 48 per nine.

Beckman finished fifth overall in the W.L.A.A. meet, and 11th at both the regionals and Woburns Tournament. As a freshman she recorded a hole-in-one during match play.

"She was outstanding academically and showed senior leadership the whole season," Canton coach Dan Riggs said. "Sarah also shows excellent poise."

The team captain was a four-year varsity player.

Kerri Kittleson, Ply. Canton: The other half of the Canton connection, Kittleson averaged 47 per nine to cap an outstanding four-year career.

The highlight of her season was a second place finish in the W.L.A.A. meet.

"Kerri consistently scored in the mid- to high-40s in all matches," Riggs said. "She's an all-around versatile athlete. She's excellent off the tee, has good mechanics and knows the game well."

The Canton captain plans on going to MSU.

All-American in showdown

A.J.'s Lounge beat Papa Romano's 9-0 Monday in Livonia Modified Softball League action, setting up a showdown with one of its closest rivals, All-American Sports Center.

The two teams will meet at 8:30 p.m. Monday on Livonia Ford Field's Diamond No. 2. A.J. will bring a 7-0 record into the game, a half-game ahead of second-place All-American Sports Center (6-1).

Primo's Pizza is the only other undefeated team at 7-0.

All-American Sports Center coach Dave Brubaker looks forward to a close game. All-American outdueled Crestwood Lounge Monday, 8-3.

"Both teams have played exceptionally well at times, and both have had bad innings," he said. "It's going to be a heckuva game."

In A.J.'s win Monday, the winning pitcher was Jerry Stazel, who led the team to its fourth shutout of the season. Keith McManaway, coming off a finger injury, stroked a three-run home run. Ron Sitkauskas was 3-for-3 and Tom See 2-for-2, both hits being doubles.

For All-American, Brubaker won his first-ever pitching decision, allowing four hits, three runs, two walks and striking out two over five innings. The game was called after six innings because of a time limit.
