tem, but we have not created a new system," he said.

Aganbegyan, admittedly "sad and shocked" by events at home and appearing subdued, was greeted with a welcoming sign of joint friendship and teamwork written in Russian by Kroger employees in Garden City.

Nearly all goods sold by Kroger are supplied by Foodland from the firm's Livonia warehouse which contains 1 million square feet and the state's largest food freezer. Kroger also carries some of its own products.

The Kroger store in Garden City was selected as part of Aganbegyan's tour because it is considered a state-of-the-art supermarket, according to manager Scott Dobie. Built less than two years ago, "We have all the specialty departments."

Aganbegyan observed produce "coming from the truck, to the processing room, out to the floor," Dobie said.
