

Farmington Harrison's varsity cheerleaders display some of the awards they won at the Universal Cheerleader Association camp at Eastern Michigan University.

Cheers!

Cheerleaders at Harrison now have lots to shout about

From July 29 to Aug. 1, the Farmington Harrison High School varsity and junior varsity squad attended the Universal Cheerleader Association camp on the Eastern Michigan University campus.

The varsity squad came home with the camp's top honors, receiving a Superior ranking in the pom competition and the coveted Leadership Award.

This award is given to the one squad that shows exceptional leadership qualities while attending camp. Theresa Kuolo also won the jump-off award, for jumping the best during the jump-off competition.

The JV squad received the top honors with a Superior in the Side-line cheer. Both squads won numerous superior ribbons and spirit awards while at camp.

There was also an All-Star competition for both squads. Varsity cheerleaders to make the All-Star squad were: Theresa Kuolo, Heather Conley, Jenny Brockhaus, Robin LaFleur, Michele LaFleur, and Alisa Koval. These girls have the opportunity to cheer in London, England, on New Year's Day in the Westminster New Year's Day Parade. Jessica Plett was chosen an All-Star in the JV division and has the opportunity to go to Houston, Texas, to participate in the Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The 1991-92 Harrison Varsity Cheerleading squad is made up of: Captains — Heather Conley and Theresa Kuolo, Gabrielle Aramian, Jenny Bares, Jenny Brockhaus, Susan Calder, Colleen Dwyer, Kim Gottesman, Shannon Heaney, Alisa Koval, Michele LaFleur, Robin LaFleur, Julie Longworth and Cathy Westbrook.

The JV cheerleaders are: Captains — Jessica Plett and Denise Stark, Christina Deschoff, Jenni Japengo, Kristi Lowen, Allison Noe, Becky Peans, Kimmie Pearce, Denise Stockel, and Amanda Traitechaud.

He earns 'Lifetime' achievement

Dr. Morrie L. Dubin, who practices optometry in Berkeley and lives in Farmington Hills, has won the Lifetime Achievement Award of the Michigan Optometric Association.

Presentation of the award came during the association's 95th-annual convention at the Boyne Mountain Lodge, Boyne Falls, Mich.

Dubin, a 1948 graduate of the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, Chicago, is a past president of the association and previous winner of the organization's Optometrist of the Year and Keyperson awards.

The Lifetime Achievement Award recognizes association members who have made significant contributions to the association, profession of optometry and their communities over an extended period of time.

Dubin has practiced optometry his entire professional career, 42 years, in Berkeley. He is a charter member of the Berkeley Rotary Club and has twice served as its president. He is the club's first recipient of its Paul Harris Award. He has also been a member of the Northwood Toastmasters Club since 1958 and has served as activities director for the Boy Scouts of America.

Dr. Morrie Dubin receives the Lifetime Achievement Award from Dr. Paul E. Borton, previous winner, during a recent convention.

Other professional activities include the presidency of the Oakland County Society of Optometrists, vision consultant to the Lamphore School District, member of the board of directors of the Michigan Vision Service Plan, originator of the first Michigan Conference on Vision and Learning and membership on the board of directors of the Optometric Institute and Clinic of Detroit.

For his work in developing the Michigan conference on vision and learning, Dubin won the Homer H. Erickson Award of the national Optometric Extension Program.

Writer is optimistic man

Dear Lorene,
I am a 34-year-old male who never writes. Since I was in high school I have always printed. My job requires everything in print so the only time I write is when I sign my name.
As I write to you now, I find that I have to pause a bit and think of the pen strokes needed just for this writing.

I thought it would be interesting for you and me to see what you could come up with about myself.
J.C.

Lorene Green

I, too, thought it would be interesting to see what I discovered about your personality from your handwriting, but wish you had enclosed some of your printing for comparison and accuracy.

Our writer today is a young man who is most comfortable with the known, the predictable and the organized. He needs to be in control of his life and his situations to be at ease.

There is a basic optimism about our writer. At times, he may even get carried away with it. At other times, however, he must fight against mood swings.

In his interactions with others, he may come on strong trying to make a big impression. However, once he finds the relationship progressing well, he feels more confident and able to let down the barrier. Rarely does he become emotionally in-involved. And there are times when he looks at others with envy.

This young man is gifted with a silver tongue and seldom finds himself at a loss for words and/or ideas. Literary interests are also here.

Aspirations appear to reach higher than the amount of effort he is willing to put forth, to bring them into reality. He has a strong need for material acquisitions. These may have a way of compensating for some deprivation he perceives from the formative years. It seems quite possible he experienced something of a traumatic nature in early life.

Still, our writer adheres to much of the training of his early life. He is not too receptive to new theories or dogma.

There's a tad of chauvinism here.

However, our writer would not be comfortable in a subordinate position to female authority. And he wishes to be perceived by others as more self-assured than he may inwardly feel.

Some indecisiveness here can make it difficult to arrive at decisions. He may also have a problem proactively following through on projects, especially lengthy ones. His preference is for immediacy of results and actions.

There is an element of self-consciousness about our writer. Criticism, especially of his appearance can strike a sensitive chord.

Before closing I would like to reiterate what I have said many times before. Printers are often people with talent in art, design, engineering and other areas were the job requires it.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to: Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist at 3523 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Please use a full sheet of white unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are all helpful. Constructive feedback is welcome.
