

Times Change

Once people spoke with respect of the man who carried a roll "as big as my fist" or had a "sock full of gold pieces."

TIMES CHANGE

How much a walking gold mine is looked upon as unwise and unbusinesslike. His dollars are lazy. He does not make them draw interest and permits himself and his home to be targets for highwaymen and burglars, to say nothing of the dangers of fire.

Carry a checkbook—not a bill roll. Have your savings drawing interest not cobwebs. Your money when deposited in this strong institution is absolutely safeguarded and draws 4 per cent interest.

THE GOLDEN RULE OF THE ROAD

This is a good time of year to practice the golden rule on the highways.

The time was when the farmer and he who hauled heavy things to market objected to the automobile because it kept him turning out on the road so much of the time. Now the general traveler on the highways works himself wretched when a farmer's or a commercial truck fails to turn out as promptly as it should.

The rule to follow is the one created long before the automobile. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

Keep your eyes behind you, at least part of the time. When you see a car which wishes to pass, give it a good safe chance as soon as you can.
