

Now I'm starting for the store
And I know what I'm sent for.
—Young Mother Hubbard.

I can remember two pounds of round. Mamma said the butcher man would know just the cut she wanted. He's thoughtful that way—and remembers things.

NEW HELP FROM A NEW KIND OF IRON

The Iron that Revolutionized Ironing

At last, a new kind of iron solves your worst ironing problems—the iron with the "million-dollar" thermostat.

It watches its own temperature. The iron turns itself off before it gets too hot—then on again before it can get too cool—automatically.

Saves time, work and worry. Protects the garments and prolongs the life of the fabric.

Safe, too, if you or the laundress go away and forget to disconnect the cord.
