FRED W. GREEN WOULD RETURN GOVERNMENT TO PEOPLE OF STATE

Republican Candidate for Governor of Michigan Outlines His Platform

Fred W. Green, mayor of Ionia, Mich., and Republican candidate at the September 14 primary election opposing Alex J. Groesbeck for the Governorship, will soon begin a series of speeches in Oakland county. He is scheduled to appear in Pontiac next week, and will probably visit other communities before election day.

In practically every place where he has spoken this summer Mr. Green has met with a hearty and spontaneous welcome by citizens who are hailing his as the "Moose" to lead Michigan out of the wilderness of autocratic government, and into the land of enlightened, representative administration of the people's affairs at Lansing.

Mr. Green declares if elected, he will insist on the return of his constitutional prerogatives to the auditor general and the placing of the State accounting system beyond the power of successive administrations to manipulate for their own reasons.

"I shall insist that moneys appropriated for specific purposes shall be used for those purposes alone," he said.

"It will be my desire to perform the constitutional duties of the governorship. I shall not use the administrative board for my purpose. I shall not seek to deprive the legislature of its responsibility for legislation.

"It shall be my desire to appoint to State Boards the best qualified men I can find and I will leave to the members of the boards the performance of the duties they are sworn to handle.

"I stand relentlessly opposed to letting loose upon society the professional criminal. I will use the parole power to minimize the crime problem, not to augment it. I shall insist that hearings upon paroles be public. I should consider it a shameful thing if during an administration of which I was the head the report could generally be circulated that an appeal to any particular law firm could affect the parole or pardon of any criminal.

"I stand for an earnest conservation program.

"In my appointments I shall strive to obtain the help which comes from viewpoints drawn from all walks of life. I believe the State would benefit largely from the participation of women in the active affairs of government.

"I shall insist that no person on the public payroll shall engage in active politics either in my behalf or of anyone else.

"I stand for unrelenting enforcement of the present labor laws and for a revision of the workmen's compensation law to accord with the changed standards of living and the changed industrial conditions.

"I am an advocate of a single four year term for Governor. I believe the chief executive should have time to work out his program of administration and I believe he should not be able to use the vast power of his office to perpetuate him in that office."

ALBERT W. WILLSON'S STATEMENT OF CANDIDACY

Since "The Enterprise" has solicited a statement from me concerning my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, I wish to make reply through the various papers published in the county.

I have but one plank in my platform: Service to the Public. Having been a resident of the county for fifty years and having been in conspicuous public service, the greater portion of my life I do not depend upon promises or an argument. I am willing to rest my case upon my performance in the discharge of public office as a public trust.

During the last six years as Supervisor of the Township of Royal Oak I have neither bought nor sold real estate nor written insurance, but have devoted all my time, thought and energy to the office which I have regarded as a sacred trust. Should I be elected Treasurer of the County I shall give undivided attention to the duties of that office. There will be no side-lines. I am informed that more than half of the business of the office I seek comes from the Township I have served as Supervisor, and from my knowledge of this volume of business, I believe that I can organize the administration of the office into responsible departments with experienced heads, and promote economy in administration, both as to time and money.

As may be well known, I advocated, against the report of the committee recommending a bond issue, that our county build its series of public buildings, the Infirmary, the Contagious Disease Hospital, and the T. B. Hospital costing $600,000.00 on a basis of "Pay as you go." This policy was adopted and the last building is now under construction and when completed every building will be paid for, with a saving to the taxpayers of thousands of dollars in interest. On account of the large valuation of the county the raising of the one mill tax each year, voted by the people, has enabled us to do this without any burden pressing the taxpayer.

On the basis of the above principles I propose to administer the County Treasurer's office. If elected, thereto, and solicit the favorable consideration of the voters of the entire county.

ALBERT W. WILLSON.

ARTISTS AND MODELS AT SHUBERT DETROIT

The new "Artists and Models" valet "Paris Edition," will open the season at the Shubert Detroit Opera House next Sunday night. The advent of the lucious Shubert perennial each Labor Day week is becoming an established custom at the opera house on the Campus. The engagement is limited to two weeks.

Only New York and Chicago have been visited by the forthcoming revue. The Winter Garden on Broadway housed it—contemplating the populous feminine entourage, should we say she?—all of last season while Chicago provided the Apollo as a place of exhibition for the past seven weeks. The attraction comes to Detroit directly from its Chicago engagement and with the further assertion that the New York and Chicago cast will be visible and audible here, without abridgement.

One hundred and fifty persons are concerned in the new "Artists and Models." The cast is headed by Phil Baker and the famous Eighteen Hoffman Girls. This versatile and comely troupe of engaging maids is under the personal direction of Gertrude Hoffman and is the same as that which enjoyed an entire season at the Moulin Rouge, Paris, and Hippodrome, London. In point of lavish display the show outdoes any of the previous Shubert efforts. There are 39 scenes, no less than half of them being opulent full stage visualizations. When "Artists and Models" was first offered in New York last season critics were of one accord in declaring that the Paris edition outshone all previous versions of the revue. Not alone that, but many of the most eminent writers set forth that here was the best revue of all time. On the occasion of the Chicago opening a similar flood of encomiums proceeded from the Remingtons and Underwoods of the Windy City's reviewers.

REAL ESTATE COURSE AT U. OF M.

E. M. Fisher, director of the department of education and research of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, member of the research staff of the Institute for Research in Land Economics and Public Utilities, and author of Principles of Real Estate Practice, standard text on the fundamentals of the business of real estate, has been chosen to head the courses in real estate to be opened in the coming fall by the University of Michigan as part of its school of business administration. The position will be the first full-time professorship in real estate to be created by an American university. Mr. Fisher will have the title of associate professor of real estate management. The university will offer a major in real estate for graduate students in the school of business administration. It is the plan to begin with a small number of classes in real estate so that a great deal of attention and effort can be given to research—Michigan Investor.

New Educational Idea

A new project in Swedish education, enabling working men and public school children to see the natural sights and historical remains of their own country at little cost, has been announced at Stockholm, through co-operation among the department of education, the Swedish Tourist association and the state railways, school children from the plains will be taken around in the mountains and vice versa, and while traveling they will live exclusively in special railroad cars, called "train homes."
