

NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW
OPPORTUNITY OF LIFETIME

The National Dairy Show at Detroit for the first time in a period of twenty years of successful operations should become the center of interest for the people of Oakland county.

The National is to the Dairy production and distribution industry what the Sesqui-Centennial is in expositions: i. e. the last word—the best. There are features of the show which will interest every citizen of the county: producers, consumers, distributors and manufacturers of dairy products.

Producers will be interested primarily in the cattle exhibits, feeding displays, barn and milk house equipment and conveniences, which have to do with making their part in the business more efficient.

Consumers will be interested in the modern methods of distribution which seek to give them a high grade product at comparatively low cost. Housewives will be pleased to know of the great variety of ways of serving dairy products, particularly to children.

The machinery exhibit for manufacture and distribution of dairy products will be almost beyond comprehension. Any milk or dairy product dealer can study the most modern equipment and fill his own requirements after looking over the various types which will be shown together only at the National.

Nothing has been spared which could in anyway contribute to wards making the show the most complete in dairy history. It is expected that the management of the show will designate a day for Oakland county residents when they will be given special consideration.

The advance ticket sale for the county has been placed in the hands of H. M. Vaughn, County Agricultural Agent. A special price of three tickets for $1.00 will prevail on all tickets purchased through Mr. Vaughn. Groups, organizations and individuals are urged to take advantage of this saving in price and purchase the needed supply at once.

The young fellows get some mighty interesting effects with their mustaches these days.

WEST POINT PARK

Mrs. Fred Stewart and little daughter Audrey of Detroit, were the guests of her sister, Mrs. Ethel Middlewood, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McGraw of Detroit were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peas Saturday.

Will Peas while driving home from Farmington Saturday evening, his horse ran in the ditch breaking the buggy, but Mr. Peas was uninjured.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Way, a boy, Saturday morning September 11. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Way and new baby, Kenneth Edward.

Carol J. Beach, 20 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beach, took first prize at the State Fair for being most perfect. Her percentage was 99.5.

Miss Esther Middlewood spent Tuesday in Detroit.

Miss Grace and Miss Geary of the Zonta Club of Detroit, were guests of Mrs. Ethel Middlewood Sunday.

We are expecting to have Rev. H. E. Duttwiler of Vassar to preach next Sunday morning.

MICHIGAN'S TAX RATE

IS LOWER

Michigan taxpayers will pay out as much for the administration of state affairs in 1926-27 as they did in the past year, a total of $17,800,000 in direct property tax, according to the state administration board. This total is based upon the same estimates of cost used in determining the 1925 tax levy, it was shown, but basing the percentage of tax levy on the new property year, the rate per $1,000 assessed valuation will be 13 cents less in 1926 than in 1925.

The rate announced by the board will be $231 per $1,000 valuation this year as compared with $244 a year ago. The state board of equalization added $348,655,000 to the assessment figures this year, making the aggregate assessed valuation $7,709,790,000 on which the $17,800,000 tax is levied. Thus, while the tax burden remains unchanged, the rate per $1,000 valuation shows a slight drop from last year's tax rate.

It pays to advertise.

STATE FARMERS GET NEW FAIR BUILDING

That Michigan agricultural organizations and interests have been given a wonderful opportunity to tell the vital story of quality production in all farm products, through the medium of the new agricultural building at the state fair, is the opinion of experts from the Michigan State College.

The new building was formally dedicated at Detroit last week taking rank as one of the finest farm exhibit buildings in the world. L. Whitney Watkins, chairman of the board of managers of the state fair, presided at the presentation ceremonies. President Kenyon L. Butterfield of M. S. C. accepting on behalf of the farmers of the state.

Good indication of the value of the building in making possible the greater display of Michigan farm stories was given last week. Practically all of the state's leading organizations were included in the list of those who had attractive exhibits.

Flower, fruit and grains filled the floor space in the center of the building, all being arranged around a central fountain, beside which an orchestra played during the afternoon and evening hours.

The state farm bureau, the grange, the gleaners, the crop improvement association, the Michigan State College, the State Department of Agriculture, the Detroit market gardeners association, the canners association, and the Upper Peninsula were all represented by educational displays which told stories of great interest to Michigan farm folk.

The Time Has Come

For a long time, the people of Farmington (City and Township) have watched with ever increasing interest the expansion of Detroit. In three years, we have seen the limits of that dynamic city extended from Meyers Road, 12 1/2 miles from the Farmington City Limits to Five Points only five miles from the Farmington City Limits. Very soon, we will feel the magic throb of rapid growth. If we are to avoid a haphazard development, the time has come to prepare and plan.

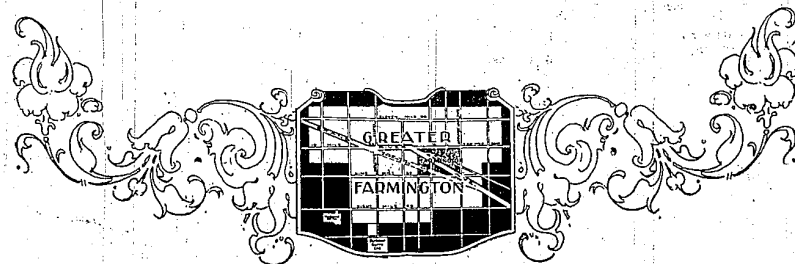

We ask the assistance and co-operation of every citizen in our efforts to guide this growth. We want you to help us protect Farmington from undesirable elements, to help guide this development in a way that will enhance property values for EVERY property owner in our district, and above all to keep Farmington as beautiful and homelike as it is today—a real home town.

That is the purpose of our association. You can and should become a member and assist in this great work. Write or call the Executive Secretary, Mr. Arthur D. Smith, Telephone Farmington 200, for full information.
