

SEED CORN PROBLEM

UP IN STATE AGAIN

The problem of a shortage of good seed corn, with which Michigan farmers have wrestled for the past three years, threatens to prove serious again this season, according to H. C. Rafter, crops specialist at M. S. C.

Delayed plantings last spring and the recent prolonged stage of wet weather have delayed the maturity of the crop. Even the corn which is practically ripe contains excessive moisture and will not keep well unless every precaution is taken to dry the supply intended for seed before freezing injury or mold ruins its vitality.

preferred for small supplies; while a special seed house is worth while for the commercial seed corn grower.

"Ears should be racked or hung separately, so as to permit free circulation of air; while ventilation should be so arranged as to permit the taking in of plenty of air below the corn, with ventilators above to let it out. Corn should be stored between these openings only, as that stored above or below is likely to be in stagnant air and mold.

"The application of heat to dry it down when cold weather starts is advisable."

M. S. C. STUDENTS TO JUDGE AT DAIRY SHOW

Three Michigan boys; students in the agricultural division at M. S. C., will compete with men from twenty other states at the National Dairy Show in Detroit October 6 to 12, in an effort to bring the title of "National Student Judging Champions" back to Michigan.

H. J. Foster, of Rives Junction; T. P. Knopf, Blissfield; and Gordon Whitburn, Marquette will compose the M. S. C. dairy judging team. A second team, slated to score dairy products in the national competition will be made up of: A. D. Ackley, Marshall; George Harma, Atlantic Mine; and Oscar Hall, Lucas.

Both of these teams took training trips through other states early in September, in order to get in better shape for the contests at the Dairy Show. Students from M. S. C. have won high honors at previous shows. Frank Williamson, who recently came into prominence by signing a contract to manage Senator Cou-ron's farm, was high man of the whole show two years ago.

No matter to what physical proportions it may shrink before the end comes, the Grand Army of the Republic never will lose any of its real grandeur.—Detroit Free Press.

TEAM-WORK

Farmington High School has one of the most-feared elevens in the State of Michigan. Why? Because the football coach has drilled them constantly on the fundamentals of football and has hammered home to them the value of TEAM-WORK

The City of Farmington like its football team, is engaged in the task of making a touchdown in the development of suburban property. In place of the cleated shoes, padded shoulders, headgear and jersey sweater of the football player, Farmington is arming itself with broad, paved roads in all directions, a sewer system, gas lines, electric service, pure water supply, first-class schools and everything to make home life attractive.

To obtain the best results and insure the greatest increase in property values for the whole city and district, Farmington's leaders have organized a Greater Farmington Association, which every citizen of Farmington is cordially invited to join and HELP THE TEAM MAKE A TOUCH-DOWN!
