

LIFE

My bark is tossed on a raging sea
And the angry waves do buffet me
The wild gale drives me fiercely on
Toward the waiting rocks to become their pawn.

As each mad wave in fiendish glee
Sweeps o'er the deck to vanquish me,
My soul descends despair's abyss
"No ship can weather a gale like this."

The wheel is useless in my hand
The tempest shrieks like a demon band,
Still closer to the shoals I veer;
And their greedy jaws fill my soul with fear.

What use is compass, map or chart,
The storm is master; the lightnings dart,
Only makes the darkness seem more intense.
No power of nature for my defense.

Then far beneath the roaring wave
I cast my anchor, the ship to save.
Its chain unharmed by sea or rudder
Invulnerable chain of a loving mother.

Calm grows the sea, the winds subside
She tugs at her anchor on a friendly tide
Through receding clouds I greet thee mother
You bring me peace as no other.

Electric Table Stove Operates on a Lamp Socket

This very convenient and thoroughly satisfactory utensil permits of the cooking of meals at the table. It is really a table range. It cooks three things at the same time—enough for three or four persons—and cooks these things perfectly, as only electricity can cook.

The Electric Table Stove costs little to buy and little to operate. It is a great comfort to the housewife.

Come in and let us
tell you more about it.
