

GLASS SHADES USED

IN HOME LIGHTING

Lighting fixtures equipped with decorative glass shades is the latest style development in home lighting, according to N. J. Eisenlord & Son. By their use better illumination is obtained through their effect in softening the light and giving more even distribution.

The recent perfection of new type electric lamps or bulbs that are frosted inside results in greater diffusion of lamp in being used so generally, the softening influence of glass shades is both practical and desirable.

Newest styles in residential lighting fixtures are either equipped with shades or provision is made so that shades may be added. Of the several styles of shades available, the most popular is the Cremax type, in antiqued iridescent finish, says Mr. Eisenlord.

Among the most popular and practical of the newer styles in lighting fixtures are those made of aluminum or a combination of aluminum and wrought iron, decorated in subdued colors. The finish on the better styles is guaranteed permanent, will not rust nor tarnish under any conditions and never requires polishing.

"In a season when musical plays appear to have the call, 'QUEEN HIGH' is cheerfully recommended, both for its comedy, its timeliness, and the general excellence of its presentation."—Detroit Free Press.

"'QUEEN HIGH' is hilariously funny. Scarcely a moment is unamusing. Uniformly excellent. Perhaps few musical comedies will equal it for class and intelligence this season. Be sure to see it on your list of important events."—Detroit Times.

FARMINGTON

Not Miles--But Minutes!

TRANSPORTATION is the first great requisite of a growing community. Without it—all development is handicapped. People today are willing to live many miles away from their work—are glad to live out and away from the rumble and roar of a busy city. Distance does not count.

TIME IS THE ALL IMPORTANT FACTOR

It's not the number of miles but the number of MINUTES that determines distance nowadays.

And so with FARMINGTON. Our town must be made easily accessible to keep pace with other towns equally distant from Detroit. The first pressing need now is of course—an improved and wider Grand River.

To secure early action on this vital necessity is one purpose of the GREATER FARMINGTON ASSOCIATION. At the last meeting of the Board of Directors—open to all members of the Association—constructive plans were laid to bring about the widening of Grand River Avenue to Farmington.

YOU can help build the future of FARMINGTON by identifying yourself with this progressive Association.
