The card was sent him through the Department Adjutant accompanied by the following letter:

Dear Comrade:

Department headquarters forwarded your name to National Headquarters as one of the post officers who succeeded in the remarkable achievement of securing a post membership in 1926 that surpassed the average membership of your post for the past 4 years.

In acknowledgement of this wonderful showing National Commander McQuigg sent to this office a Testimonial of Appreciation for you with your name beautifully inscribed on this card. The card is attached and bears evidence of the fact that worthwhile efforts are rewarded.

We congratulate you upon the success which your post enjoyed during 1926 and solicit a continuance of your support so that our organization may continue in its great humanitarian work and be a benefactor for public good in every community.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE

AT PAULINE'S STORE

Smoke issuing from the basement of the Henry Pauline grocery and market on Division street attracted the attention of passers-by at about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. An alarm was at once turned in and when the fire department arrived it was found a lively fire was raging in the basement among the boxes and barrels. Owing to the excellent construction of the building the blaze was confined to the underground part and no particular damage was done in the store above. Goods stored in the basement were ruined.

It is thought that the fire was caused from a lighted match dropped on the sidewalk and which fell into the opening beneath.

MIND IMPRESSIONS

T. Orr, a specialist in memory development, entertained the members of the Exchange Club at their Tuesday nonaday luncheon in an interesting and instructive talk on the vagaries of the human mind, its possibilities and limitations.

He stated that whatever made an impression on the mind is never really forgotten but that in itself did not constitute knowledge or intelligence. Knowledge and intelligence are those impressions which can be used at will. The power to so concentrate that these impressions will form knowledge, he said, can be developed in any person. The power to forget is fully as essential as the power to memorize.

Mr. Orr is now engaged in the work of training a large class of nurses in two or three of the larger hospitals of Detroit. He is a native of that city.

Total, $300.35

I wish to thank all the ladies who assisted in this Red Cross Roll Call, and also all contributors who helped Farmington in its splendid donation.

Bertha C. Steele,

Farmington Chapter Director.

Thomas S. Carr spent Tuesday in Detroit on business.

TEACHING THRIFT

Many Farmington residents will have impressed upon them within the next few days the value of consistent saving. The banks of Farmington are now mailing out the grist of annual Christmas savings club checks to subscribers of those clubs and the total distribution will amount to a considerable sum. Under the rules of the savings clubs conducted by the banks, each member is required to deposit a definite amount each week, and the checks now being received cannot but serve an impressive evidence of the value in saving even a small sum each week.

The Christmas savings club plan, inaugurated by the banks of the nation but a few years ago, has been accepted by a host of people as the means either for forming the nucleus of a permanent bank account or for providing a definite sum of money for their annual Christmas buying. In either instance the clubs are demonstrating annually to thousands of people what can be accomplished through thrift in either a small way or a big way. The average club member is having it proven to himself that if it is possible to accumulate even a small sum through meagre weekly saving, it is possible to accumulate an impressive sum by the practice of thrift and adherence to a definite plan for saving.

DO IT NOW

The erecting of a new home for The Enterprise and getting it into proper shape has brought with it much satisfaction and incidentally a bill of cost that has to be taken care of.

At present there are some subscriptions, advertising and job accounts due us that, were they paid, would help out to an appreciable extent. If you are in arrears on subscription, or otherwise indebted to us please make it a point to settle at this time.

THE HUNTERS RETURN

The lure of the home circle and the Thanksgiving turkey brought to all of the local hunters back to their respective homes before the blizzard struck the Upper Peninsula. A string of ten fine bucks were on display at the Ford Sales & Service on Friday. Eight of them fell to the aim of the nine hunters of the Covington Gun Club and two to the other camp.

The trip by automobiles was an innovation this year and met with good success. Heavy snow was not encountered until they were within thirty miles of their destination. The greatest delay was expended in crossing the Straits at Mackinac. When they reached the docks at 10 o'clock there were 150 cars ahead of them and when they were ferried across there were nearly 200 behind still waiting.

On their return trip their cars were loaded at 7 o'clock and after traversing half of the channel the captain turned his boat about and returned to the dock on account of a heavy blizzard that was raging.

The boys reported good hunting although the deer were in the swamps on account of bad weather. This season was especially wet and cloudy.

The doe with the trap around its neck and a bell attached still comes near by. Two years ago this animal was badly favored, raised on a bottle by one of the local farmers. It walked into the kitchen of the hunting lodge.

MAKING CHRISTMAS SANE

There are two bits of advice which it is folly to ignore in this season. The one is "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early," and "Send Your Christmas Mail Early" is the second. Pools held neither, but if the observance of both is proof of rare wisdom then the world is becoming wiser.

It was but a few years ago that the major portion of the Christmas shopping was done during Christmas week and the Christmas rush in the mails did not begin until the eleventh hour. The result was that unfavorable shopping conditions and congested mails ruined Christmas Day for countless thousands.

How much easier and how much more satisfactory for all concerned are the modern practices of starting the gift-buying season in November and of starting the gifts through the mails in ample time to insure their punctual delivery.

Whether one looks at the question from the selfish or impersonal point of view the arguments are all in its favor of early shopping and early mailing.

Early shopping gives one the pick of the new and undepleted Christmas stocks, leisurely selection, more satisfactory service and less jostling. Early mailing is a guarantee of timely delivery and minimizes the dangers of damage and loss in transit.

Should there be any to whom these arguments are unconvincing, let them give a thought to the merchant and his sales force and to the postal employees whose one desire is to please the public but who are powerless to help those who won't help themselves.

Mrs. E. L. Banta, son Millard and daughters Marian and Laura Mae of Breedsfield, have been spending the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Wick, also Mrs. Banta's sister, Mrs. Elmer Empson. Mr. and Mrs. Wick entertained at six o'clock dinner Saturday in honor of her mother and sisters. Covers were laid for twelve. Carl Wheelock of Detroit, a cousin, was also a guest of the day.

INSTRUCTION IN SAFETY

FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Trooper Edward Cooper of the Michigan State Police, Wayne Detachment, has been detailed by Lieut. R. W. Eaton to visit the various schools on the main trunk highways in Oakland county. At each school he will give a fifteen minute talk on safety and will particularly emphasize the advantage and safety of left hand walking. The first talk will be to 8th grade pupils and special instructions will be given the smaller children.

A squad of safety patrolmen of from four to six boys in each school will be organized to act as outside instructors for the smaller pupils.

Safety pledges will be given to each pupil to be signed by their parents and returned. These pledges will be sent to Capt. C. J. Scavarda, commander of uniform division, state police, East Lansing, who in return will send a safety reward to schools that send in these pledges fully signed. This is to show that the school is a 100 per cent safety school.

This safety campaign has the hearty co-operation and support of E. J. Lederle, commissioner of schools for Oakland county, A. G. Leonard, superintendent of the Farmington schools and Isaac Bond, supervisor of Farmington township.
