YULETIDE PARTY

The Yuletide party given at the home of Mrs. John Clark, Beverly Court, Detroit, Tuesday afternoon by Group Three of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church was a lovely affair.

Thirty members and friends were present and spent a most enjoyable afternoon during which Santa Claus, himself, appeared bearing gifts for each guest.

The pot luck dinner was delicious and served in the dining room made most attractive with Christmas decorations.

CHRISTMAS CAROLERS

Wednesday evening, December 22, the seventh and eighth grades of the Farmington schools will sing Christmas carols in front of all homes placing a candle in their windows. If you wish to enjoy a real Christmas inspiration don't forget to put your candle where the carolers can see it.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CLUB

The members of the Exchange Club will indulge in a Christmas dinner at its noonday meeting next Tuesday. On that occasion all members will be expected to bring a present not to exceed 50c in value. These presents will later be distributed by Rev. Dunlavy among the children of this locality.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

IN FARMINGTON
That Christmas is only about two weeks away is fully attested by the various attractive windows about Farmington, as well as the crowds of Christmas shoppers that have begun to throng the stores of the town. This week the columns of The Enterprise are crowded with real Christmas shopping news, listing almost every item of gift possibilities. Hundreds of suggestions are offered that will simplify the problem of gift selection, and Farmington prices will be found to be much less, as a rule, than those asked by the city stores.

MRS. PETTIBONE CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Catherine Pettibone celebrated her ninety-third birthday anniversary, Sunday, December 14, at the home of her son, Charles B. Pettibone and wife, Grand River avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer West of Novi were birthday dinner guests. Mrs. Pettibone was born in Farmington and is the oldest resident of this community and still is in fair health retaining all her mental faculties.

Her reminiscences of Farmington's pioneer days are exceedingly interesting. Her many friends hope to see her round out a hundred or more years.

M. E. BAZAAR

The annual bazaar and supper given by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church last Thursday was very successful.

More than $500 was cleared and the ladies feel well repaid for their efforts. They wish to thank all who aided and patronized the affair.

NOTICE

Having received the tax roll for Farmington township, I will start collecting taxes at the Farmington State Savings Bank during banking hours, starting the week of Monday, December 13 and the following week at the Peoples State Savings Bank. Thereafter I alternate between the two banks. One per cent will be charged up to January 10, thereafter four per cent will be charged.
