

Hills resident manages Clarenceville cable

Welcome Clarenceville students to Channel 12 television programming. Farmington Hills resident, Sharon McDonald, is the cable television manager/teacher for Clarenceville schools. She has been working on cable committees within our franchise for many years.

She is especially proud of the programming because all the shows are produced by students. Some of the initial programs are 1990/1991 graduation, and a family series dialogue entitled "Tale To Me About Suicide Prevention," and another program called "Clarenceville Spotlight." 1991 Homecoming, and a talent show entitled "Class Acts." They also have a program called "Clarenceville News Update."

Sharon's teaching philosophy is demonstrated through the enthusiasm of the students. She teaches them to recognize qualities of television production and emphasizes the importance of building a positive experience. Their self-esteem is enhanced creating a solid foundation for the future. This is the same philosophy Community Access has promoted in local communities for the first nine years.

Their shows can be found on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the 4-6 time slots.
