paintings at the shop. DIA paintings are also available in several sets of notecards ($9.95), including Picasso, Matisse, American Women 1910-20 and Five European Masters. Daybooks, address books and postcard books are also available.

YOU'LL ALSO want to take a look at the variety of museum reproduction jewelry based on designs from the Orient, Egypt, Africa and South America. One popular line of necklaces, pins and earrings uses striking designs from pre-Columbian times. Made of brass with a 24 carat-gold overlay, they range in price from $58 to $239.

There is lots to choose from at the shop for the children on your holiday list. A series of paperback picture books called Getting to Know The World's Greatest Artists ($4.95 each) looks like a fun way to introduce kids to Picasso, Mary Cassatt, Vincent Van Gogh and others.

Other items for kids include packages of air-hardening clay ($3.95) that can be painted with tempera paints, art-supply kits ($20), educational games, and Pablo Junior ($18), a set of colorful geometric shapes that can be combined in many ways to make interesting sculptures.

Marlene Donoghue of Plymouth, who attended the store's grand opening, called the design of the store "extremely elegant" and said it was a great place to shop for difficult people.

"It's the place to come and shop for your mother-in-law and Great Aunt Betsy who already have everything," she said. "You get them a roll of stamps and a book of postcards, and they don't have anything to dust in six months."

Here's another idea for a gift that doesn't need dusting: buy someone special a Founder's Society membership at the DIA: $30 individual, $50 family, $25 full-time students/seniors.
