Bumper bowl at Woodland

LIVONIA, ALONG WITH San Francisco and New York will be the sites of the National Bumper Bowling tournament. The event is scheduled for 1 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 7 at Woodland Lanes on Plymouth Road.

The entry fee is $1. The price includes bowling, snacks, and juice.

The event is the first ever of its kind open to youths four years and younger. For those who may not be familiar with the term Bumper Bowling, a tube is placed in the channels on either side of the lane to prevent a gutterball. Sorry folks, but this tubing is only available to small-fry bowlers.

The technique of Bumper Bowling is designed so that children will not get discouraged with gutter balls.

If you wish to call Woodland Lanes for openings, the number is 524-4515. Beginners are welcome.

At the opposite end of the age spectrum, Gary Woelke, a 78-year-old bowler from Mayflower Lanes in Redford Township, has won 192 series with a block of 216-279-279 in the Mayflower Senior League. Almost keeping pace with Woelke was Al Thompson, who nailed a 741 set.

Garden City resident Rick Eiermann, bowling in the Stroh's Beer Makers, won the year's 19th tournament of Champions at Thunderbolt Lanes.

Eiermann, who benefited from a couple of Brooklyn strikes, plus a conversion of the 5-9 split in the 10th frame, defeated Bob Chamberlain, 210-198, to win the second annual event.

Cooperations to the Country Lanes Greenfield Mixed League Team No. 10 for winning the first ball. The team comprised Kathy and Tom Koebel, and Debbie and Ron Blanchard.

CC defeats Lake Shore

Redford Catholic Central won a boys basketball game Friday night only because it didn't play as poorly as Lake Shore.

The host Shamrocks outscored Lake Shore, 16-6, in the third quarter to erase a 26-20 deficit and beat the Shorelites, 46-40, in a non-league game. Senior Bob Kummer scored 10 of his game-high 29 points in the third quarter to rally the Shamrocks, who improved to 4-1 overall.

Kummer, recovered from an ankle injury he suffered in CC's 68-40 loss Dec. 20 against Clarkston, knows the Shamrocks won't have a chance Tuesday at Redford Bishop Borgess if they play the same as Friday.

"We played sloppy all night long," Kummer said. "Lake Shore set a lot of picks, we weren't calling them out and we kept getting back-doored to the hole all night."

"A win is a win but you have to put it in perspective. We didn't do it with flying colors. If we play against Borgess like that, we'll be in trouble."

Senior Chad Varga scored 11 points and Kummer led all CC rebounders with 12. Reserve sophomore guard Andy Slankster played good defense and rebounded well in the second half for the Shamrocks.

After taking a 36-32 lead after three quarters, CC outscored Lake Shore, 10-8, in the final eight minutes.

Joe Zajac led Lake Shore (1-4) with 12 points.

his excellent agility in combination with his strength to survive against bigger offensive linebacks.

"I'll grab and pull myself over the top (of an opponent), and I use a rip technique (to fire past blockers), too. If I didn't have any quickness, I think I'd be dead in there. Some guys bench press close to 500 pounds."

If Cummla has an idol, it would be Chris Zorich, the former All-America nose tackle from Notre Dame who plays for the Chicago Bears. Cummla bears a physical resemblance to Zorich and patterns his style of play after him.

"A lot of people said I looked like him, so I decided to get his (former Notre Dame) number (50)," Cummla said. "Rob Zeno said I look just like him. Now let's see if you can play like him."

football

"He's a much better player. He's in the pros and I'm just a junior in college. I think I attack like him. Both of us play aggressively and hustle to the ball. He's just a little stronger, thicker."

The Pirates, like Cummla, gained the respect of the college football world with their fine season. ECU was proclaimed "Champion of the Carolinas" after its Peach Bowl victory.

"THAT'S WHAT they're calling us, because we beat North Carolina State and they beat North Carolina and Duke," Cummla said.

(ESPN commentator) Lee Corso kept saying we would find someone to lose to. After we went 10-1, he apologized on national TV. Coach (Bill) Lewis taped it and showed it to the team at the next meeting."

Despite losing, the Pirates gained confidence from a 35-31 loss to Illinois, Cummla said. ECU began its winning streak against Memphis State, Akron, Central Florida and Syracuse — a winner over Ohio State in the Hall of Fame Bowl.

"We knew from then on we could be a good team," Cummla said. "We had a saying 'I believe.' Coach Lewis started it after that game, and we made T-shirts that said 'I believe.'"

Southern Mississippi to end the regular season.

Cummla, who had five sacks and 8½ tackles for losses during the year, had two of his best games against Pitt (one quarterback hurry and five assisted tackles) and Virginia Tech (five solos and three assists).

CUMMLA LOOKS forward to his senior season in Greenville, N.C. The Pirates will have everybody back on defense with the exception of All-America linebacker Robert Jones and a cornerback.

"I was just lucky to come in (when he did and be part of a successful program)," Cummla said. "Coach Lewis was real aggressive, competitive and earned my position. I'll be happy to go back there next year."

"We have Syracuse in the first game. I just want to beat Syracuse and go from there."

the competition," Herpich said. "Her improvement from last year already has shown in practice. I expect her to qualify in three events and place at the conference meet."

Farmington returns six second-year gymnasts, including sophomore Monica Moore. Herpich is counting on her for depth and to provide the fourth score in some meets.

The others are juniors Kate Gundlach (bars and vault), Kara Hanna (beam and vault) and Michelle Reinhold (beam and vault) and sophomores Erin Reagan (beam) and Kim DeBorde (beam).

The Falcons also have on their team first-year senior Deanna Woolly, sophomore Jenny Macra, Sara U'reig and Amy Tomczak and freshmen Maureen Gerwatski, Katie Harwell, Jenni Walker, Colleen Wellington and Carol Norcia.

"We will have more opportunities to put different people in meets instead of the same five or six," Herpich said. "I think we can mix and match, which will be good for everybody."

In a high school sport, it's important that everyone gets a chance to participate. Gymnastics is not something you can do when you get older. This is the only chance many will have to compete in this kind of sport."

Farmington, which finished sixth in the seven-team WLA, begins the season Wednesday with a dual meet at Westland John Glenn.

The first meet is always a learning experience," Herpich said. "I'll know better what our potential is after that meet."

any whether Grandfield can return at all for her senior year, but he's more concerned about her own well-being.

"Sometimes we get too carried away with athletics, but her health is more important than any season can be," Thompson said.

Without Grandfield the Trojans finished second in a three-team meet in December against North Farmington and Ann Arbor Pioneer.

"That's not bad for us at that time of the year," Thompson said. "We don't have any club kids and don't start working out until the first starting date in November. So for them to get their routines down and to shape in five weeks is pretty darn good."

This is Thompson's 29th year as Clarenceville coach. The Trojans, who won the Great Lakes League two years ago, finished 12-3 last year and were undefeated in the league by Fraser.

senior all-arounder Joey DeWater, whose scores last year hovered around 30, Thompson said.

"Joey is a workhorse. Everything she gets she works hard for," he said.

The other top all-arounder for the Trojans is senior Sherri Hochstadt, who averaged about 32 or 33 for the four events, Thompson said.

"She's a good little kid," Thompson said. "She can be lazy once in a while, but she's got showmanship for a gymnast."

Three other seniors are expected to make valuable contributions. Jenny Lay performs on bars, beam and vault. Tamara Teets works on the beam and bars and Jennifer LaFollette does bars routines.

Among the underclassmen are sophomores Amber Teets (bars), Erica Therrian (beam, floor and vault) and Laura Sullivan (floor), junior Nicole Kolar (beam) and freshmen Krista Seney (vault, floor, and beam) and Carissa Gasser (bars).
