Rocks lose star in victory

After Salem and the Hawks split the first two games, the Rocks (1-45 overall and 2-0 in the WHAA) dominated the Hawks en route to, a 15-6, overall and 15-5 victory.

But it was not without its cost. With Salem leading 5-1 in the third game, senior Julianna DeLaRocque went up for a spike. When she landed, she twisted her ankle and fell on the floor in extreme pain.

ed, she twisted her ankle and fell on the floor in extreme pain.
"At first we thought it was a bro-ken leg, because it started awelling high, right above her ankle," Salem-ce-cauch Alle Saffrey said.
After being X-rayed twice, the prognosis was a severe sprain. De-Laiflocque was told to stay off the ankle for three days. Suffey doesn't expect her to return to action for 10 days, however.
The injury seemed to apark the Rocks, who went on to win the third game 15-1.

IN THE fourth game, tragedy struck Salem again. Nikki Santilli dove for a shot and hit her head on the floor, suffering a slight concus-sion. She isn't expected to miss any

"The Injury to DeLaRocque bothered our kids," Harrison coach Ron Shortt said, "It was strange. It has a positive effect on them, but it bothered us. You have to admire the way they played."

Suffety praised senior capitain Ju-like Thomas (nine kills) for maintaining control on the court for the Rocks.

NORTH FARMINGTON coach

NORTH FARMINGTON coach Sandy Lublenfeck! predicted Walled Lake Central would be a top contender in the WLAA this season and the discovered she was right Wednesday.

The visiting Raiders lost 15-5, 13-15, 15-12, and fell to 6-5 over all and 0-2 in the WLAA. It was Central's second league victory in sampy tries.

"I'm happy with the way we played and this was a big plus for us," Lubleniecki said. "We had three weeks off and played very poonly in our last game. I think we piled after the first game wednesday and the team lifted the level of its game. I'm game going."
