

AWARD-WINNING AIRBIRDS— With 43,000 square feet of display area, the Kalamazoo Aviation History Museum can exhibit up to 21 aircraft out of a collection of 29. Six aircraft have been named Grand National Champions.

70 powerful photographs of the "wall" and the people who have visited it, will be exhibit.

You can visit the Kalamazoo Air Zoo by either car or plane. By car, take Interstate 94 to the Portage Rd.

exit (#78). Take Portage Road south two traffic lights. At Milham Road turn left (east) and the Museum is at the end of the road. By plane, simply fly to the Kalamazoo/Battle Creek International Airport and taxi up on the Museum's flight deck.
