New officer joins force

A 1991 Western Michigan graduate is the newest public safety officer in the city of Farmington.

Officer Scott Herrmann, a St. Jo-seph native, Joined the department last week after being sworn in on Thursday morning by city clerk Josephine Bushey, replacing an of-ficer who left the department last fail. He will begin field officer training this week, then leaves for two months of fire and medical training at the Oakland Fire Train-community I applied to.

Farmington's public safety de-partment handles both police and fire protection.

fire protection.

Herrmann sald he wanted to be a police officer "ever since I was a little kil" and that he specifically sought a public safety department which appeaded to him. "Compared to St. Joe, Farmington is similar hey're both about the same size," he sald. "Farmington was the first
