School board members (from left) Cathleen Wobb, Holen Dilzhazy and Helen Prutow listen to the public comment, while socretary Earleen Kiener takes notes during Tuesday's four-hour meeting, which was cablecast live for the first lime.

cian Dave Worthelmer was the man behind the board production Tuesday. Here he sits in a closet the hall from the board room where he monitors school board pro

Right at home

Cable pipes board meeting into living rooms

PARENTS Couldn't get a sitter.
Or that favorite easy couldn't get a sitter.
Or that favorite easy couldn't seemed more invite offices on Shawassee Hill last Tuesday.
Whatever the reason, residents in Farmington and Farmington and Farmington absorbe to basic cable service were able to tune in to the Farmington Board of Education's regular meeting which started at 8 pm. and ran until about midnight.
Despite a few hitches — like a problem showing a video during a presentation about technology in the district — the meeting moved along a bodie. Harrist third craders from along. Harrist third graders from Hillside Elementary were the lucky not be the state of the sta donned a beard to portray painter Claude Monet.

STUDENTS FROM other schools

STUDENTS FROM other schools will get a chance to have their presentations cablecast as part of future meetings.

The board conducted business ranging from awards to employees-of-the-year, to awarding bids for bleachers and roofs.

One school trustee, James Abernettly, said he was concerned that the board would feel rusted to end committee meetings and surply at 8 p.m. especially the property of the said of the consider taping the meetings for a later time.

Committee meetings are usually held before the regular meetings and are open to the public, but there are no plans to cablecast them. The Farmington school board meetings are shown on cable Channel 10.

Four cameras purchased to cablecast board meetings are mounted unobtrusively on the board room ceiling and can focus on an overall shot of the board or on two to three members at a time.

Hills chief wants renter evicted from raid site

Friday, "but the management seems cooperative."

Twelve Detroit-area men were arrested early Sunday, March 1, following a raid on a unit in the Cordoba Apartments on the south side of 12 Mile, between Orchard Lake and Middlebelt roads.

If the man who rented a Farming-tion Hills apartment where 12 men were arrested in a raid March 1 bird veited, paddocking procedures will be begin, said Farmington Hills police begin and $400 fine. The men are extended to appear at 2:30 p.m. March 15 firday, "but the management seems cooperative."

Twelve Detactive.

The men, who released with mistemenant tickets, were charged with frequenting in a place of Hills from maximum sentence of 90 days in 61 firdth District Court.

Tilose WHO were ticketed following the raid.

THOSE WHO were ticketed following the raid were identified by police as Gourguis Anul Samouna, 24, Anthony M. Matterson, 20, Joseph M. Fournia, 20, Masoor Marvin Asker, 18, and Zoutlair Joseph Fournia, 17, all of West Bloomfield; George Nawar Jarbo, 26, of Troy, Naji Sumoud Tallo, 21, of Oak Park; Jack Zead Jabbor, 19, of Southfield; Sabah Tarik Kama, 19, of Birming-ham; and George Ather Gappl, 22, Jamil Amer Sharrak, 28, Farook Bassam Yono, 19, ali of Detroit.

At 3:30 am. Sunday, March 1, Farmington Hills police responded to a loud party complaint at a unit of Cordoba Apartments. Police sald they could hear gambling going on inside the apartment. Police obtained a search warrant, raided the apartment and seized gambling equipment and an undetermined amount of cash.

police/fire calls

Listed below are some of the Farmington-area police inci-dents, fire calls and court cases reported during the past week:

UNARMED ROBBERY

A 29-year old Dearborn Heights woman was assaulted and run over with her own car by an acquaintance near Eight Mile and Tuck roads, according to a Farmington Hills police report.

cording to a Farmington Hills police report.

The woman told police that a man, reportedly a friend of her boyfriend, arrived at her house asking for a ride to his brother's apartment hear fight Mille and and as the timed northbound on Tuck from Eight Mile, he reached over and put the car into make.

Mile, he rearned over and put the car into park.

The man reportedly asked for sex, which she declined. The woman told police he then punched her in the right side of her face several times and pushed her out of the car. As he and pushed her out of the car. As he drove away, he drove over her leg. A witness told police he saw the woman assaulted and run over. The witness picked up the woman and took her to safety where police were

Caregivers'

workshop

scheduled

The woman was treated at Bots-ford General Hospital, Farmington Hills.

WOMAN INDICTED
 A Farmington Hills woman is among three people indicted on fraud and conspiracy charges, according to U.S. Attorney Stephen Markman.

Markman.
A federal grand jury indicted
Angela Melton Feb. 27 on one count of conspiracy, one count of wire fraud, one count of bank fraud and three counts of money laundering. Markman said.

three counts of money isunocering, Markman said.

The indictment charges Melton and two others with "a conspiracy and scheme in Will with the said of the others with "a conspiracy of scheme in Will with the said of the other and with the said of the other and with the said of the other and the said of the said

Tuesday, March 10 and Tuesday, March 17: Farmington Hills Senior Adult Division Invites anyone caring for a family member or friend who is elderly, frail, ill, disabled or im-paired to attend a workshop at the Mercy Senior Adult Center, 28800 11

It is scheduled for Tuesday, March

NVR. The defendants then schemed to launder these funds so as to conceal their fraud upon NVR, Markman added.

Melton faces maximum sentences of five years in prison and $25,000 fine for the conspiracy charge, 30 years in prison and $1 million fine for wire fraud and 30 years in prison and $1 million fine for bank fraud. Each count of money laundering carries a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison and $1.5 million fine. The indictionent also seeks the forfeiture of the proceeds of the offeiture of the proceeds of the offeiture of the proceeds of the offeits of the of

THEFTS REPORTED Flood lights valued at $400 were reported stolen from Big Boy restaureported scale from Big Boy restaureported scale from Big Boy restaureported scale from Harrison High School, 20090 12 Mile, March 34, Bores and cabinets also were ransacked.

10, and Tuesday, March 17.

Sessions provide ideas, recommendations, problem-solving suggestions and time for individual questions and concerns.

There is no charge but reservations are required. For more information, call 473-1854.

