Nursing home changes name

Farmington Nursing Home of Farmington Hills has changed its name to Botsford Continuing Health Center (BCHC). The new name more accurately reflects the mission of the facility and the services that it provides, officials said.

Botsford Continuing Health Center was chosen to emphasize the continuum of care that the facility attempts to offer as well as to make the community aware of its long-time affiliation with Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills. BCHC administrator Linda Mlynarek said.

The health center's affiliation with Botsford Hospital enables it to tap into the hospital's existing programs and services it enhances the quality of care, she added. "Botsford Continuing Health Center is representative of an increasing number of extended care facilities providing a wide range of services," Mlynarek said. "The health care environment today is such that extended care facilities are called upon to provide much more medical and technologically advanced care. The term 'nursing home' does not reflect this trend."

Botsford Continuing Health Center provides services for the elderly, including highly skilled care for those acutely ill. Its latest program, restorative nursing, aims to rehabilitate health center residents so that they can become more independent and return to their homes.

Botsford Continuing Health Center is a 179-bed extended care facility located at 30405 Folsom Road.

EMERGENCY!

We're moving on June 15

On June 15, the Emergency Center and all other outpatient healthcare programs at Providence Medical Center on 10 Mile and Haggerty will close permanently. These services will move to Providence Park, 47601 Grand River and Beck Road, just off of I-96, at the Beck Road exit.

So beginning June 15, when you think EMERGENCY...think Providence Park. Our entire staff from Emergency, Outpatient, Surgery, Lab and X-ray will be at our new location ready to provide you and your family with the Providence quality care you've come to expect from us over the past decade.

If you currently see a Providence physician with offices in the facility at 10 Mile and Haggerty, please check with that office for their moving date to Providence Park later this summer.
