MANAGER OF ENGINEERING

CMI INTERNATIONAL, INC., a high volume manufacturer of machined castings for the automotive industry, has an opportunity available for a Group Manager of Engineering.

The selected candidate will possess a B.S.M.E. or the equivalent of 10+ years' experience in machining, including the process and manufacturing of power train or suspension components. Metal removal (iron and aluminum), rotary dial machine and transfer line experience is also required. The ability to supervise simultaneous projects is necessary. Good communications skills are a must. Foundry exposure would be a plus. The selected candidate will report to the Group Vice President of Manufacturing and will be responsible for managing multiple projects related to the building of rotary dial machines and transfer lines. This position entails new part/machine project implementation, development of new processes and tooling, review of customer drawings, interface with customers, production assistance, participation in continuous improvement activities and interface between all departments for cost reduction activities.

CMI is a team oriented company that seeks to continually improve its position as a leader in its field. We are presenting the opportunity to become a part of this team where not only your technical expertise will be utilized, but also your ideas and suggestions for improvement.

Our employees enjoy competitive earnings as well as a comprehensive benefits package, which includes exceptional health care, life insurance, tuition reimbursement, incentive programs and a profit sharing retirement plan.

If you would like more information regarding a career opportunity with CMI International, Inc., please send an up-to-date resume with salary history to:
