havior. But they are promising a certified, flat, fast and accurate course, a musical sendoff from kiln bagpipers, five-year age groups, colorful T-shirts bound to end up in your favorites pile, and customized gold, silver and bronze medals for top age-group finishers.

All Classic Junior finishers will be awarded medals. The top six male and female runners in the open division will receive $100 savings bonds.

Club members will serve up grilled burgers, bagels, chips, cookies, fruit, pretzels and plenty of pop and beer, both non-alcoholic and alcoholic. There'll also be a graffiti board, the usually crowded outdoor, co-ed shower and prize giveaways.

Covering the race along with the sponsoring Observer will be co-sponsor WWJ and Michigan Runner Magazine. Entrants will receive postcards detailing their finishing time and place in the run.

The Classic is expected to draw a large field of wheelers, who include the race each year in the Michigan United Sports Chair League Series. Among the wheelers will be Jim Keskeny of Pinckney, a former Birmingham resident and Catholic Central graduate who has multiple sclerosis. Keskeny plans to wheel himself in, but will have help along the way from members of the People Who Run Downtown. The club is raising pledges for M.S. in Keskeny's name. Anyone interested in pledging may call (313) 437-4302.

Late entry fee (after July 15) is $20 and includes the run and admittance to the party. The cost for the mile fun run and party is $12. Entry fee for the Classic Junior is $8. Entry forms can be clipped out of this newspaper. They're also available at Running Fit in Novi, at area sporting good stores, or by calling (313) 347-4949.

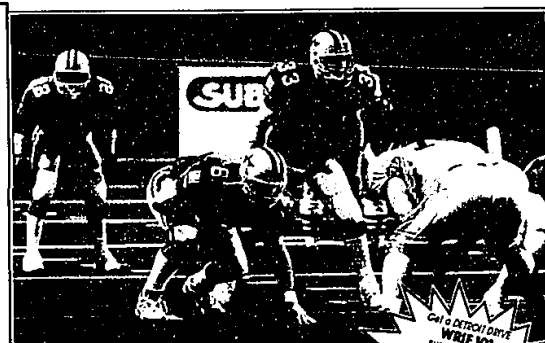

Race-day registration will be 3:30 to 6 p.m. at Veterans Park, at Stark and Lyndon in Livonia. From 1-96, take the Farmington Road exit north a half mile to Lyndon and go west a quarter mile to Stark. Paved parking is available in the Ford Field lot and at the YMCA. For more information, call (313) 347-4949.
