

Creative art sessions starting in September

Christine Unwin of West Bloomfield is handling a series of creative art workshops that begins in September.

For more information, call 609-4730 or write Unwin at 6850 Brookline Drive, West Bloomfield 48322. A $50 deposit is required for registration.

Workshops by Nita Engle will take place Sept. 11-13 in Detroit suburbs, Nov. 13-15 in Raleigh, N.C., March 5-7 in New Orleans and in May in Seattle. The cost is $450.

A workshop by Donna Vogelheim, "Composition, Color and Contrast," will take place Sept. 18-20 at the Comfort Inn, 12 Mile and Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Hills. Cost is $175.

Participants will learn how to make rich, dark washes, how to mix warm and cool grays and how these subtleties influence their total effectiveness in expressing the mood of a painting. Vogelheim will demonstrate each day and give participants personal attention while they paint from a set-up that includes fresh flowers, patterned material, lace and glass.

"Seeing the Light," a workshop by Linda Doll, will take place March 8-12 at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth. Cost is $300. Doll will explain what happens when an object is bathed in sunlight and how to achieve glowing color. Participants may work from photos or a still life set-up. Doll will demonstrate each day.

Unwin will present a cruise workshop to Italy, France and the Greek Isles May 14-28. Katherine Chang Liu will present an Alaskan cruise workshop in July. Participants may cruise and paint on their own or join in a workshop.

Participants in James Soars' workshop Aug. 8-12 will paint on location for two days. Soars' demonstrations and lectures will consist of an explanation of composition, color, light and its properties, how light creates color and shadow variations, and how to achieve luminous color by underpainting and overglazing. Cost is $300.

A workshop by Judy Morris will take place Aug. 16-20 in suburban Detroit. Cost is $300.

Workshops by Unwin next year are scheduled for Oct. 5-9 in Santa Fe, N.M. (workshop cost $300), and Oct. 26-29 in Cambodia, Calif. (room, meals and workshop cost $450).

'Art on the Green' fair set for Labor Day

"Art on the Green" is scheduled for the ninth consecutive year on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7, between 13 and 14 Mile, one mile west of Telegraph, in Franklin Village.

More than 70 juried artists will participate. The art fair, presented by the Franklin Arts Council, takes place in conjunction with the Franklin Community Association annual Labor Day roundup, now in its 48th year.

The lineup of events begins with the art fair opening at 10 a.m. At noon, the "Good Old Days of Franklin" parade will assemble south of the village green and then move up Franklin Road in the center of the village with about 500 participants. Throughout the day, attendees will enjoy a midway of fun and games, a horse show, a baking contest and sale, a raffle with more than 50 prizes, and more. Fresh cider and doughnuts will be available. A band concert will take place at 1:30 p.m.

Admission is free. The art fair and roundup will close at 6 p.m.

The art show has developed a reputation as one of the best in the metropolitan Detroit area. More than 500 artists applied. Those participating represent Michigan, Wisconsin, New York, Ohio, Indiana and Florida.

Tour planned to see Egyptian exhibit at museum

Southfield's Cultural Arts Division of the Parks and Recreation Department is hosting a tour to the Cleveland Museum of Art on Wednesday, Sept. 16, to view "Egypt: The Dazzling Sun: Amenhotep III and His World."

The round-trip, air conditioned motor coach, coffee and muffins in the morning, a box lunch and admission to the collection are included in the $35 ticket. The bus will leave Southfield at 8 a.m. and return around 6:30 p.m. For reservations and more information, call 354-4717. More than 3,000 years ago, the "Dazzling Sundial" pharaoh Amenhotep III commanded the creation of brilliant works of art that our modern world has come to love. The collection, gathered from 30 major sources, is displayed dramatically in deep blue galleries with spotlights on all the objects.

These splendid examples of artifacts ranging from perfume bottles to sculpture and sarcophagi will only be seen in Cleveland, Fort Worth and Paris.

Workshops to show how to apply for mini-grants

Any Oakland County non-profit organization is eligible to apply for a mini-grant for an arts project to take place in the county.

The next deadline for the completed applications is Friday, Oct. 9. For applications, contact the Oakland County Cultural Affairs Office at 858-0415. Grants of up to $2,000 on a matching basis are awarded.

To help in writing for a mini-grant, the Oakland County Cultural Council is offering two grant workshops. One will take place 7-9 p.m.

Wednesday, Sept. 2, at the Farmington Hills Library, 32737 W. 12 Mile in Farmington Hills. The other will take place 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 9, at the Executive Office Building, the building with the mirrored addition at the County Service Center, 1200 N.

Library in Birmingham chosen for writers project

Baldwin Public Library in Birmingham has been selected to participate in "Writers Live at the Library," a pilot project sponsored by the American Library Association with a grant from the Lila Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund, the ALA has announced.

Baldwin. "We are looking for something where readers and writers can interact, more than at a luncheon or a book signing. This is a credit to Baldwin" to be chosen for this project.

The goals of the project are to bring writers "home to the library," develop audiences for writers and literature, enhance the role of libraries as cultural centers and provide accessible literary programs to diverse audiences.

Baldwin is one of only 20 libraries in three Midwestern states (Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin) chosen to participate.

Borders Book Shop in Birmingham will participate in the project in partnership with the library.

"Writers Live at the Library" is designed to increase visibility for writers and libraries through literary programming, bringing together writers and members of the public.

"I'm excited about people having access to writers," said Sarah Ormond, head of adult reading at each local program will begin with a key event involving a high-profile writer "live at the library" as a catalyst for the series of programs the library will plan.

For more information, call Helen Mauser at 541-0788, or 1-800-572-6711.

A two-member team from each of the 20 selected communities will attend an intensive training and planning seminar in Traverse City Oct. 1-3. The team from Birmingham will consist of Ormond and Elaine Morse, assistant manager of Borders Book Shop.

For more information, call Ormond at 647-1700.

Benefit opening aids dancers

The Helated Gallery, 560 N. Woodward in Birmingham, will have an exciting benefit opening 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 3, that will kick off the Eisenhower Dance Ensemble's 1992-93 season.

The benefit will feature photographs of Mark Morris and Mikhail Baryshnikov by Annie Leibovitz. Leibovitz is a well-known journalistic photographer whose photos are seen in Vanity Fair and Rolling Stone magazines.

Proceeds from the opening will benefit the dance ensemble. For more information, call 644-8284.

Each local program will begin with a key event involving a high-profile writer "live at the library" as a catalyst for the series of programs the library will plan.

For more information, call Ormond at 647-1700.

Entries sought for fall display

Serious adult artists have until Sept. 8 to submit entries to the Lutheran Center's fourth annual Christian art show, "Art in the Autumn."

The non-juried, mixed media show will be open to the public Oct. 24-30 at the Lutheran Center, 579 E. Nine Mile, four blocks east of Woodward in Ferndale.
