

Workshop offers forum for ideas to better programming

LARK SAMOUELIAN

CABLE CONNECTION

"Alliance for Community Media" is the new name for the former National Federation of Local Cable Programmers. The mission of the revamped organization is to facilitate the exchange of information among people throughout the State of Michigan who are concerned with community programming.

The new board, of which I am a member, wants to spread innovative ideas among community access centers and independent producers, through the use of all forms of media, including print, video and film. In my position as Community Media Promotion Coordinator, this entails scheduling cable workshops to disseminate information. Our first workshop will be held on Saturday, Nov. 14, at the SWOCC Studio located at 24021 Research Drive, Farmington Hills. The topic of this workshop is "Promotion using Print Media," and will feature Dick and Pat Isham as speakers. This dynamic couple has been very active in community media, and will have much information to share with us.

The workshop will begin at 11 a.m. with a two-hour program, followed by lunch, a membership meeting and ending with a producer's exchange of ideas.

We encourage all those individuals involved with community access television to participate. This is an opportunity for you to become involved with the "Alliance for Community Media," and gain tips on how to make your shows better. If you have any questions about the workshop or "The Alliance," call us at 473-7266.

ONE OUT OF EVERY THREE WOMEN WILL SUFFER FROM OSTEOPOROSIS

Osteoporosis is a serious bone disease threatening the over-50 population in the United States. This silent killer can make growing old dangerous and painful, causing debilitating fractures of the hip, spine and wrist.

But there is good news. There are preventive measures, and a cure that can stop the progression of this disease once it has started. To find out if you are at risk, complete this simple questionnaire. If you are over 40 and have answered "yes" to 2 or more of these questions, call us. We'll send you a FREE certificate for $10 to help defray the cost of a visit to your own doctor. He'll discuss with you the risk factors, and how osteoporosis can be prevented or treated. If you don't have your own doctor, we can recommend qualified physicians specializing in osteoporosis detection, prevention and management. Along with seeing your doctor, remember that a calcium-rich diet and exercise are also an important part of osteoporosis prevention throughout your life.

Make sure your Golden Years are healthy and happy ones. Become more aware of this disease and get involved in preventing it.

Osteoporosis Testing Centers, Inc. is a diagnostic testing facility, established to serve the medical community by offering the latest advances in osteoporosis evaluation for the benefit of physicians and their patients. Our goal is to help the physician in the patient management program, help the patient understand the need to treat this disease, and make the public aware that osteoporosis is a serious disease that robs our aging population of its dignity as it slowly deteriorates quality of life.
