

Sweet Adelines ring up blue ribbons

Metropolitan Detroit's Spirit of Detroit Sweet Adeline Chorus and its director Sylvia Karpinsky returned from their recent regional competition in Grand Rapids with their 84 members wearing five blue ribbons.

Composed of women from 41 communities in and around Detroit, the chorus is now entitled after international competition in Reno, Nev., in the fall of 1994.

Local women also took honors in quartet competition.

Winner of the quartet contest was "Accolade," comprised of Dodie LaMarte of Waterford, Sue Gleason of Waterford, Jeanne Lundberg of Plymouth, and Lynn Cleverger of Ann Arbor.

Spirit of Detroit invites women of all ages to visit rehearsals at 7 p.m. any Tuesday night at the VFW Hall at L-90 and Inkster in Redford Township. For more information, call 534-4468.

Watch for dates of outdoor contests this summer, when the Spirit of Detroit Sweet Adeline Chorus will perform for free under the stars in area parks.

Concert-goers are welcome to bring lawn chairs and blankets and enjoy male divas as they listen to four-part harmony, barbershop style, designed to appeal to music lovers of all tastes.

Dorothy Davenport of Plymouth was installed for a second term as Spirit of Detroit's president at the chorus's spring banquet. Other officers include Ruth Pencak of Union Lake, vice president; Grace Roberts of West Bloomfield, corresponding secretary; Mary Lou Howlett of Walled Lake, recording secretary; and Pam Lauer of Westland, treasurer.

Board members installed for new terms are Linda Gleason of Plymouth; Jan Dillon of Redford; Margaret Lockard of Detroit; and Betty O'Connor of Farmington Hills.

Women of all ages are invited to join Spirit of Detroit Sweet Adelines Chorus.

OCC seeks to train leaders

Oakland Community College is seeking students to participate in the Summer Youth Leadership Program Aug. 9-20 at the Farmington Hills campus.

The program is supposed to enable students to address issues within their communities.

The first week of the program will involve 25 college students in leadership training workshops covering topics like goal setting, time management, creative writing and conflict resolution.

The second week of the program will pair college students with middle and high school students.

For additional data, call Kelly Masters at 471-7573.

Exchange students coming

Asia, South America and Australia.
