

Unwanted Bargain

In 1860, when his nomination was in doubt, Abraham Lincoln wired the following to his campaign manager: "Make no bargains for me." The manager's reply: "Hell, we are here and he is not!" To get the nomination, the Lincoln forces needed the support of Simon Cameron, the industrialist who headed the Pennsylvania delegation. So Cameron, who had visions of a job in the Cabinet, was told he'd get the post his little heart desired, and Lincoln won the delegation--and the nomination.

A Sore Wump

In 1884, the Mugwumps bolted the Republican Party when James G. Blaine, with better luck than he'd had in '76, won the nomination.

Who do you want for your PROSECUTING ATTORNEY --a politician or a professional CRIME FIGHTER?

TWO MEN are seeking your vote November 5th for Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney.

One has made a career of running for elective office. This time he wants to take over as chief law enforcement official.

The other man - CHIEF ASSISTANT PROSECUTOR THOMAS G. PLUNKETT, has spent four years as a member of the highly-rated professional staff of the Prosecuting Attorney.

For four years, TOM PLUNKETT has worked with the dedicated police officers in your community to keep Oakland County a place where you and your family can live without fear of crime.

TOM PLUNKETT has done more in one day on the job than his opponent has accomplished in a decade filled with political oratory. TOM PLUNKETT will keep POLITICS OUT OF THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE.
