

Wayne County Candidates Say...

SHERIFF

Two-year term
Salary: $21,000

DEMOCRAT:

(T) ROMAN S. GRIBBS, 42, 16515 Edinborough, Detroit.

Present Sheriff of Wayne County, University of Detroit, B.S. (Magna Cum Laude) and LL.B. Presiding Referee, Traffic Court two years; Faculty, University of Detroit (teaching law) three years; Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Wayne County, nine years; Michigan Youth Commission, Commissioner, 15 years; Sergeant, Military Police Detachment, West Point, N.Y.

"The Sheriff's Office is in need of complete revitalization and major reorganization as the top law enforcement agency in Wayne County. Its daily operation must utilize the latest techniques of police and penal administration. Problems involving a staff of nearly 500, a budget approaching 5 million, the secure but humane custodial care of 1200 inmates in the County Jail, patrol of streets and investigation of crime in twelve townships, require a diligent and professional application of the law to the end that deputy sheriffs be fair, firm, just and humane. Since my appointment as Sheriff on June 1, 1968, I have been implementing these goals."

REPUBLICAN:

JAMES E. MCCARTHY, 39, 44428 Clare Blvd., Plymouth.

Attorney and Justice of the Peace, Plymouth Twp. Purdue University, B.S. 1952; Wayne State University Law School LL.B. 1963 and Graduate Law work, Industrial engineering and budget analysis experience gained at Ford Motor Company. Criminal law experience.

"The good people of this county are terrified and I shall transfer this fear to its proper place - the criminal society. I want safe streets, parks, and homes. I believe that I can effectively enforce the law without sacrificing the liberty of the individual citizen. I'm sick and tired of hearing of the sex crimes being committed at the jail and no real criminal prosecution action being taken. I cannot stand by and watch hate and terror take over our community; I cannot see organized crime rule our lives, I say it must stop now; therefore, I am seeking the office."

SOCIALIST WORKER:

ROBERT M. FINK, 32, 468 Preston, Detroit.

Student; substitute teacher in the inner city; free-lance engineering illustrator. Senior at Wayne State University, studying for B.A. -- major in music. Former candidate for Socialist Workers Party, activist for 15 years in civil rights movement, cooperate with black militants in the struggle for human rights, anti-war activist and student activist.

"One main issue raised by Democratic, Republican and Wallaceite candidates is 'law and order,' which is a code word meaning crack-down against black people and black militants, and against today's youth. As Sheriff I would instead use the power of the office to insure human rights of minorities, the right of free speech and assembly, and turn against the crimes of police brutality, corruption in government and business, discrimination and union-breaking activities. I would investigate and expose the police stockpiling of weapons both by the cities and the police at WSU."
