Seasoned player vs. tenderfoot

WOODY BOYD

equal, asked if he could have his address, to arrange a playing date. Naturally Zeke was most anxious to accommodate the tenderfoot and did so.

Within a week, Zeke received a short note from this same youth who was absolutely sure that someday he was destined to be a bridge ace. It read, "Before I agree to the expense of your play, please send me a comprehensive manual of your bidding system. If it's any good, I'll send you my check for, let's say, $25. Is this satisfactory?"

"Zeke, always delighted to oblige a budding prospect, wrote back, "Before I send you my bidding manual, please send me your check for, let's say, $50, and if it's any good, I'll send you my manual. Is this satisfactory?"

I don't know how long Zeke has been an extremely fine player, among this country's best, but Chuck Burger says it goes back to his college days on the University of Michigan campus. Certainly in the last 10 years, he has been on the same playing plain with North America's finest. In fact, his peers tell me that today he is one of the most sought-after professionals on the tournament circuit.

To be, you must be more than an exceptional player. A pleasant disposition and the ability to transmit your expertise effectively are extremely important characteristics, but while I've never played with him, I believe Zeke has another plus that isn't easy to identify. That is the confidence level he must instill in his partner, no matter what limit those skills may be.

Of course, to finish in the money is dramatic, and unfortunately the single significant measure of a pupil's investment, and these past few years he and his partners have gloried in many. Truly, I think he is a darn good pupil partner and someday I hope to enjoy a play with him.

Today's hand was played by one of Zeke's partners who numbers among his most adroit. South bid his hand as though he were 6-5 in the minors and his last call, and East's don't generate a professional's enthusiasm. After the heart lead, a talented declarer has no trouble winning 12, but one of a shade less competence might easily go down; as was the case with some who found the aggressive slamlet the recent Gatlinburg regional. That or a spade lead scuttles the dozen immediately. The heart Jack was won with East's queen, and the spade king was won with dummy's ace at trick (2). The problem is to dump the spade loser and also succeed with the trump finesse, as there a

HENRY FORD HOSPITAL IS SEEKING
RESEARCH SUBJECTS
FOR NEW MEDICATION TO TREAT
OSTEOPOROSIS

Osteoporosis is a condition in which bone tissue is reduced in amount, increasing the likelihood of fracture. Bisphosphonates are drugs which appear to prevent bone loss and may actually increase the amount of bone tissue.

It is hoped that a new bisphosphonate medication, that has been studied in other countries, will be effective in treating postmenopausal osteoporosis. A placebo controlled study using a new bisphosphonate will soon be starting at Henry Ford Hospital Center for Osteoporosis Research in Southfield.

The study will pay for:

- medical evaluation costs related to the study
- tests related to the study
- medication used in this study
- transportation costs to the Center.

You may qualify to participate in this research project if you are a woman between the ages of 50 and 80 years, and are postmenopausal, have been diagnosed with osteoporosis, and meet the entrance criteria.

If you are interested, and would like to see if you qualify, please call 1-800-447-7883, leave your name, address and a telephone number where you can be reached. You will be contacted promptly.

The Advantage 55 Health Center has been opened at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, to help older adults and their families have easy access to information on the concerns of older adults.

The center is a resource library containing brochures, books and videos designed to address the medical and social concerns of senior citizens.

A variety of topics contained in the center's collection include health maintenance, caregiving, housing, legal and financial information (including Medicare coverage) and local community resources available to assist older adults.

To complement the service provided by the center, staff members and volunteers from Beaumont's Department of Older Adult Services are available for consulting on such issues as caring for an aging relative, making decisions about living arrangements and choosing an insurance to supplement Medicare.

Consultations, brochures and video viewings at the center are provided free of charge to the general public.

"The new Advantage 55 Health Information Center and consultation services are an extension of Beaumont's Senior Resource telephone line," said Gail Chichilowski, program coordinator for Beaumont's Department of Older Adult Services. "Callers and other people who require more detailed information can drop by the center to get all of the answers they need."

The Health Information Center is on the first floor of the Beaumont, Royal Oak Medical Office Building, just steps away from visitor parking. The center is open 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday-Friday. For more information call Beaumont's Senior Resource Line at 1-800-328-2241.
