The season continues Nov. 19 through Dec. 4 with Agethan Christics most beloved and longest running mystery. The Mousettap." A group of strangers are stranded in a foreboding boarding house during a snowstorm, one of them is a murderer. Newlyweds, a spinster, an architect, a retired Army Mojor, and a strange little man, Major, and a strange little man who claims his car is overturned in a snowbank, all have skele Season opener: Salathiel Baldwin (left to right) of Livonia as Sydney Lipton and Jerry Salas as Joe Benjamin, rehearse a scene in the upcoming Plymouth Theatre Guild production of "God's Favorite.

March 12, the Guild will present "Guys & Dolls," winner of the 1951 Tony for best musical book, composer and lyricist. Two love affairs unfold with music, dance and action.

Concluding the season May 6 through May 21 is Wendy Wasserstein's "Isn't It Roman.

tic." Warm and funny, this stirring play tells the story of two post-graduate women as the struggle with personal independence and romantic fulfillment in Manhattan. It searches for answers to questions about love, carer, and, of course, domineering parents.
