PARTY GIVEN FOR SPRAGUES ON THEIR 55th ANNIVERSARY

Old Homestead Farm is Scene Of Gathering In Honor Of Couple

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steele of Old Homestead Farm was the center of a neighborhood gathering Saturday evening. Twenty-five immediate neighbors and a few past neighbors now living in Farmington gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Sprague on their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mr. Sprague related the events of their wedding day, and a trip to St. Johns, contrasting vividly the present times with that of over a half century ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Sprague are now past 80 years and enjoying good health; they have lived in their present home on Maple Hill since 1878. The party also included their son, Lydon and wife, and grand-daughter, Lettie and husband, all of Detroit.

FARMINGTON WOMAN'S CLUB HELD DISCUSSION OF TENNYSON'S WORKS

The regular meeting of the Farmington Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Heenev on Wednesday January 4. Miss Boynton had in charge the program of the day Tennyson's "In Memoriam".

In most scholarly treatment Miss Boynton interpreted this, the supreme elegy of the English language, showing how Tennyson's grief for the loss of Arthur Hallam, passed from poignant sorrow to calmness and hope from a sense of personal bereavement to the greater grief of humanity mourning for its dead, yet sustained by a hope of immortality, a fine statement of a noble theme.

Miss Sprague and Miss Hard read excerpts assigned by the leader. The singing of the beautiful lyric, "Crossing the Bar," by Percy Pauline, brought the program to a fitting and impressive close.

A short time ago a hint "delicately" given by Mesdames Tyler, Holcomb and Bickling to three members of the Exchange Club, brought from that body a most fitting response with the result that the members of the F. W. C. were invited to join the members of the Exchange Club at their regular luncheon Wednesday, January 18. The invitation was accepted.

Louis G. Wells of Detroit; will speak on "The Legal Rights of Widows and Orphans as Inheritors of Estates."

The luncheon is available for members of the Exchange Club and their wives, and members of the F. W. C. who wish to avail themselves of this courtesy must notify Mrs. Holcomb or Mrs. Bickling of such intention before Monday evening, January 16. Luncheon will be served promptly at 12:15 Wednesday, January 18 at the Methodist Church.

MOCK TRIAL DRAWS A LARGE CROWD AT WEST POINT PARK ON FRIDAY

Before a crowd that "packed the house," West Point Park last Friday night held its mock trial of Ernest Hardwood Ash, "charged" with stealing a red shirt. Judge John J. Schulte presided and Earl K. Gullen was at the prosecutor and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Charles Wilson was the defense attorney.

All provided the crowd with a great deal of mirth, the witness also proving laughter. The jur brought in a "very unanimous" verdict of "not guilty," but the Judge altered things by declaring Ash guilty, and sentencing him and his lawyer to a week in roadside basement.

The trial was under the auspices of Pierson School P. T. A. and was followed by a dance.
