Six Important Questions

Have you made your real estate plans for 1928? Would you like to build a home on your lot? Have you purchased the lot? If some one would finance the building for you would that help? Will you consider trading your Farmington property for Detroit property or vice versa? If you already have a home in this community, are you dissatisfied with it? Would you consider trading it on a better one? If your answer is YES to any of the above questions, we could render a valuable service to you. We invite you to come in and talk things over.
