Build a reserve fund for your business.

It will help you in your future buying. It will help to increase your ready cash profits. It will build you a tangible cash surplus such as every banking institution builds for its own use.

You can do this at a low week cost. Think it over—Decide upon an amount you could pay each week—figure what it would amount to when increased by the interest we pay in our savings department. It is well worth your consideration. Try it.
