FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN
FOR MR. AND MRS. JOHN
MacINTOSH BY FRIENDS

A pleasing surprise farewell party was given Mr. and Mrs. John MacIntosh Friday evening at the Community Hall. Some of the high school students presented a Southern play, after which games were played and a pot luck luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. MacIntosh left Wednesday for Chatham, Can., where they expect to remain indefinitely. Mrs. MacIntosh was one of the active and willing workers in the Ladies' Community Club.

Next Sunday, March 25 is the first anniversary of West Point Park Community Club. Services will be at 10:30 a. m. and 3 p. m., with special music.

There will be no evening service. Pot luck dinner will be served after the morning service so that anyone coming from a distance can remain for the afternoon service.

Mrs. A. Owen, who was ill last week with tonsillitis, is very much better.

The grade contests for the Metropolitan Spelling Bee, were held in the seventh and eighth grades last Friday. Helen Berger of the seventh grade and Ruth Taylor of the eighth were the winners. They will be given electionaries.

Ruth Harris of the Monnier School, Detroit, has entered the seventh grade.

Miss Margaret McCully, with Misses Helen and Alice Westphal of Farmington, were Sunday guests of Miss Lenna McCully at Ypsilanti.

The pie-walk given by Circle No. 4 last Saturday night, was a successful event, both socially and financially.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Owen of Detroit were the week end guests of their uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Owen.

Miss Beulah Jubb of Howell was the week end guest of her mother, Mrs. Marvin Addis.

PIERSON SCHOOL NOTES

Primary Room
The kindergarten and first graders have finished five of their houses for the health village. They are: the first house, the vegetable house, the clean house, the good breakfast house and the fresh air house.

The primary room has eight new health posters.

The boys and girls in this room are working very hard and gold stars which are put on the "Brush Your Teeth Twice a Day" chart.

The third grade has new poem books. The children compose their own poems and the best ones are chosen to be put in the poem book.

"SIDEWALKS OF NEW YORK" COMING TO NEW DETROIT BEGINNING MARCH 25TH

That cut-up and rowdyish clown, Ray Dooley, emerges as a full-fledged star in Eddie Dowling's melange of mirth and music "Side walks of New York," which Charles Dillingham will present at the New Detroit Opera House Sunday night, March 25, with a matinee Saturday only, after its long engagement at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York. A truly gifted player, Miss Dooley will be revealed not only as an impish and rough-and-ready tomboy but also as the possessor of powers to sway the deeper emotions.

"Sidewalks of New York" comes with the warmest critical commendation of the New York critics. It was described as a kaleidoscopic entertainment filled to overflowing with clever players, vaudevillians, bewilderment of dancing features and ensembles. Eddie Dowling wrote the play and the music was contributed by Jimmy Hanley. They collaborated on "Honeymoon Lane," Dowling's whirlwind success of this and last season.

Miss Dooley, as an orphan girl in love with a budding architect taken from a home by a wealthy friend of the Governor of New York, has never been seen to better advantage.

Among the hundred odd entertainers are Smith and Dale, Fiske O'Hara, Elizabeth Murray, Linda Ruby Keeler, Carl Francis, Cecil Owen, Henry Dowling and the liveliest and loveliest dancing chorus in years. Edgar MacGregor staged the extravaganza and Earl Lindsay arranged the dances.

The New Detroit Opera House will be glad to fill out-of-town mail orders, and have reserved quite a block of seats for all performances.
