ERIENDSHIP

By Judge John J. Schulte

By Judge John J. Schulte

Truly, nothing could be greater than friendship.

Do we value it as we should? How empty the world would seem if we were friendless. How often have we been belped by a kind word or deed from a true friend? How often, when deeply troubled, have we poured out our woes to one who has given us worden, when you would be to make you were to one who has given us worden, when you were to go we received a helptand, a few kind words and we were on our way with a new determination and a new outlook on life?

Are you cultivating that rare

If you have but one worthy of this trust, you are infinitely rich. Treasure it above worldly things. It is priceless. Do not abuse it, but stripe to weld it closer and closer as the years advance and you will reap its benefits a hundred-fold.
