THREE BIG WEEKS ARE SUGGESTED BY EDITOR AS WORTH CONSIDERING

While we are observing nearly every kind of a week, from apple to health and from forest to home, this newspaper would like to suggest about three more. We do not expect that these suggestions will be acted upon, because they are too practical, too personal. People like to do things that are abstract, rather than definite.

Good to Your Wife Week would be a very practical observance. Try it for a week on a nation wide basis and there would be millions of happy women. We could make many pertinent suggestions. Bring home some flowers. Give her an extra dollar or two, all for herself. Suggest a new dress, or a little trip or better yet, get the dress and make the trip. Be as kind and nice as you were before you were married.

Why not have a "Pay Your Bills Week?" Many would respond that they did not have enough money to pay all their bills. But if we all had what we had been most of our obligations would be removed. Such a week would be a grand period. Men in business would find many of their worries lifted. Individuals, even with the world, would go at things with new hope and courage. Creditors would be greeted with a smile. Everyone would be happy and it would be one of the best weeks in the nation's history.

"Get Rid of Bad Habits Week" is another suggestion. If you counted up your faults you would be surprised at the really large number that you possessed. Many of them could be eliminated with a little attention. Maybe some could be corrected in a week, but to think about them for a few days might lead to later action. Everybody knows many important changes he could make in himself if he had to do things over again. A little thoughtfulness that are not too fundamental will eliminate most of the faults that are not too fundamental. Of course if you are naturally mean and lazy a week's reflection will not correct such a condition. But look around yourself and you will find enough that you can remedy with reasonable attention. If you wish further instructions simply read Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. That will tell you how a very wise man eliminated some of his faults and habits.—Ex.

TWIN BROTHERS CELEBRATE THEIR 80th BIRTHDAYS

Walled Lake And Milford Men
Enjoy Anniversary Together;
Honored by Relatives

Hyde J. Smith of Walled Lake and his twin brother, John Smith of Milford, celebrated their 80th birthday at a dinner at the home of H. J. Smith in Walled Lake Wednesday, May 12.

The two brothers were born in Harpersville, Penna., May 2, 1848. When they were 11 years of age their parents moved to Walled Lake where they resided in the house now occupied by James W. Smith of the Pontiac road. Hyde J. Smith and Louise A. Smith, his cousin, were married on September 25, 1872, moving to the home where they spent most of their married life, just off the Pontiac road, now occupied by Mrs. K. Ruminaki and children. A few years before Mrs. Smith died, they moved to the village of Walled Lake where Mr. Smith still resides.

He is active and says that he feels "he will live twenty years longer." He is devoted to reading and spends much time with books and magazines. Mr. Smith has two saddle horses which he rides nearly every day. One of the horses is quite spirited and an interesting incident developed on Main street, recently. The horse, a beautiful sorrel made every effort to throw Mr. Smith but the rider sat in his saddle as easily as if the animal was walking sedately along.

Seven children of Mr. Smith are living, Mrs. Charles Harmon, Clyde Smith and Sybil Smith of Pontiac; Mrs. Ira S. Carnes and Mrs. Edwin Beckman of Walled Lake; Mrs. Grant Withey of Detroit and Mrs. Fannie Terhune of California.

John Smith lives at Milford with his sister, Mrs. Dora Rice. His wife and only daughter both died sometime ago.

Those present at the dinner Wednesday night were, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harmon, Miss Sybil Smith and Beatrice Mahaffey of Pontiac. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Withey of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Ira S. Carnes, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beckman of Walled Lake, Clyde Harmon of Walled Lake.

DECONICKS PLANNING TO SUBDIVIDE THEIR FARM ON ORCHARD LAKE ROAD

A. W. and Joseph Deconick, former proprietors of the Stone Front Garage, have entered the real estate and building field. Their farm of 80 acres, lying at the corner of the Orchard Lake road and Maple road will be subdivided by them. They have built two houses on their property, one of which they have reserved for their own use and the other which has been sold. They intend to build several more in the near future. The old farm house will be remodeled into a two-family flat.

The post office department has asked for bids from contractors desirous of carrying mail from Detroit to Walled Lake. At present the mail is carried by the driver of the Detroit Free Press truck, C. Manlike, who will probably be one of the bidders. His present contract is effective only until June 30.
