There is something good in all weathers. If it doesn't happen to be good for my work today, it will come around for me tomorrow.—Charles Dickens.

WAYS WITH MILK AND CHEESE

The French manner of serving some simple sweet, such as cheese with a little stewed fruit (if fresh is not obtainable) is worthy of more consideration in our American homes. After a hearty dinner, a bite of cream cheese, or some prepared preserved currants or gooseberries, and a cracker with a cup of coffee, is a most satisfying end to a perfect meal. Here are a few of the French dishes:

Lait Epais.—Take a small fresh cream cheese and rub it to a smooth paste with a wooden spoon. Into this rub either one-fourth teaspoonful of salt or one tablespoonful of sugar. Add alternate spoonfuls of sweet cream—about one-fourth cupful of each will be needed. When the lait epais is sugar it makes a good substitute for cream to be eaten with fruit or tarts. When it is salted it is a delicious dressing for salads composed of greens.

Fromage Glace.—Cut the peel from two lemons very thin and put with three cupfuls of milk, one cupful of cream and two tablespoonfuls of sugar into a saucepan together. Let boil, stirring the mixture with a silver spoon for five to ten minutes—until it begins to thicken slightly. Remove the lemon peels and pour the cream into a glass dish to cool. Chill an ice cream mold and pour in the cold mixture. Pack in ice and salt, using two parts of ice to one of salt. Unmold and serve on a glass dish.

tablespoonfuls each of apricot jam and orange marmalade through a sieve. Add one cupful each of fresh milk and thick sweet cream. Warm the mixture to a blood heat and stir in a rennet tablet dissolved in a tablespoonful of water; when well blended pour into sherbet glasses and let stand without disturbing—in a warm place until the mixture is thick. Place on ice to chill before serving. Serve with crackers or sponge cake with coffee for dessert.

Pigeon Got Through

A homing pigeon was liberated with an important message at Grand Pre, during the World war, at 2:35 p. m. during intense machine gun and artillery action. This bird delivered its message to the left at Rampont, a distance of 24.84 miles, in 25 minutes. One leg had been shot off and the breast had been injured by a machine gun bullet, but even under these conditions the bird delivered the message.

Has Love an Age Limit?

Dr. Durant, noted philosopher, thinks so. He says in part: "A man over thirty is incapable of love."

This came as a blow to the thousands of dashing lotharios who never stepped out at all until they reached the thirty mark.

A score of brilliant Writers, Cartoonists, Scientists and Stage Stars have undertaken to answer Dr. Durant. Most of them are over thirty. All of them are witty and amusing.

Read what they have to say on the subject.

The opinion of H. L. Mencken, George Jean Nathan, George Ade, Fannie Ward, Fontaine Fox, Elsie Janis, and countless others, is worth reading at any time.
